FULL REGIMENT OF BLUEJACKETS SAILS FOR CUBA

United States Hears American Lives Are in Danger as Result of Negro Rebellion.

CONDITIONS ARE SERIOUS, SAYS STATE DEPARTMENT

Sending of Marines Not An Intervention Movement, But a Precautionary Step—Cuban Government Still Rushing Troops to Front and Gomez Calls for Volunteers.

Philadelphia, May 23.—The United States transport Prairie sailed tonight from Philadelphia navy yard with a full regiment of marines under sealed orders, presumably for Cuba.

Only one-third the amount of beef intended as provisions was aboard, about 20,000 pounds having been rejected by inspectors as it was about to be loaded upon the vessel, because it did not meet contract requirements. The hour set for sailing was changed and an effort made to secure other beef to replace that which had been condemned, but hurry orders from Washington caused the vessel to leave with about 10,000 pounds of meat. It had intended to take 30,000 pounds.

The Prairie had already been loaded with 4,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, three 3-inch steel field pieces and six automatic guns, as well as coal, tents and provisions for the marines, when the rejected beef arrived at the dock.

Col. Lincoln Karmany, of the Norfolk navy yard, is in command of the marines who sailed. The regiment of 750 men is made up of detachments from Brooklyn, Washington, Annapolis and other points, as well as from the local yard.

ALARMING REPORTS CAUSED ACTION BY UNITED STATES

Washington, May 23.—The action of the United States government in sending the naval transport Prairie with 700 marines to Cuba is the result of reports received at the state department of threatened danger to American lives and property as an outgrowth of the uprising in that country. The Prairie will proceed to the United States naval station at Guantanamo to join the gunboats Paducah and Nashville.

State department advices today regarding Cuba were very pessimistic. Apparently the government has been unable to estimate the strength or the purpose of the present revolutionary movement. The Cuban military authorities admit that the situation is serious, but think they can control it. It is reliably reported to the state department that the movement is designed to provoke intervention.

It was carefully explained at the state department that this is not to be considered an intervention movement on the part of the United States, but merely a precautionary step in order that, in case of necessity, protection may be accorded to the Americans.

TROOPS RUSHED TO FRONT BY THE CUBAN GOVERNME

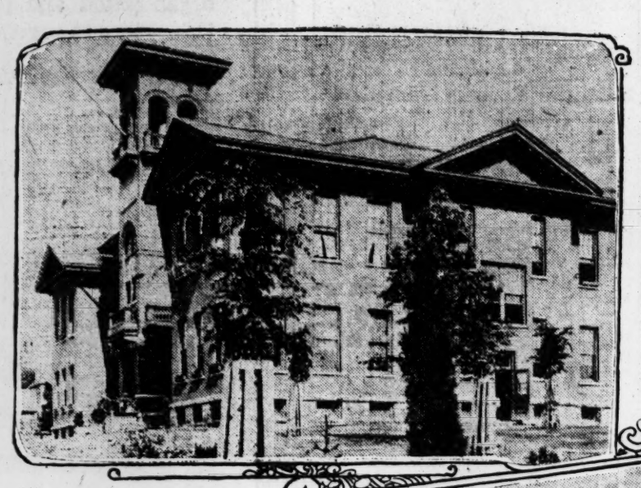

Havana, May 23.—In spite of re[illegible]ated protestations by the government, the military conditions in the province of Oriente are most satisfactory and it is only a question of a few hours before the negro insurgents under Generals Estenoz and Ivonet are scattered. Additional troops were rushed to the front tonight. In addition, President Gomez issued a decree authorizing the enlistment of volunteers for active service.

The new cruiser Patria sailed for Guantanamo today with 400 infantry and machine gunners, under command of Major Pujol.

So far, there has been only one small skirmish between the regulars and insurgents in the vicinity of Santiago, the latter being dispersed with

MRS. GRACE OUT ON $5,000 BOND

"Just as Happy as Schoolgirl," Her Comment.

Chess Lagomamrsino Goes on Bond—Mrs. Grace Will Remain in Atlanta Until After the Trial—Wants to Be Let Alone.

"I am just as happy as a schoolgirl," said Mrs. Daisy T. Grace as she stepped from the Fulton county Tower, yesterday afternoon. "I am going back to the home of my friend and will remain in Atlanta until after the trial."

The bond of $5,000 which Justice J. P. Ridley demanded for the release of Mrs. Grace following her trial for shooting and wounding her husband, was signed by Chess Lagomarsino, manager of the Atlanta Soda Company, with offices in the Peters building. He is said to have volunteered to sign the bond to secure the release of Mrs. Grace after he had been assured by Messrs. Moore and Branch, her attorneys, that she would be present when called for trial.

Bond Reduced.

Mrs. Grace has been a prisoner in the Tower ever since she was committed to jail by Justice Ridley in default of bail in the sum of $7,500. The bond was recently reduced to $5,000, after it was learned that Grace was improving at his home in Newnan.

Mrs. Grace owns property in Philadelphia, but was prevented from signing her own bond because of persistent refusal of her husband to permit her to sign papers to pledge the property.

After leaving the Tower, Mrs. Grace went to the offices of her attorneys in the Peters building. She remained there in conference with James A. Branch and then departed for the home of Mrs. Lena Wilson, a nurse, in Ashby street. She said that she will remain there until after the trial.

"I hope people will let me alone, so that I can go out on the streets like other people," she said. "I would like to have a little pleasure after all the trouble I have been in."

BRIBE OF $200 TAKEN BY AN OHIO SENATOR

Columbus, Ohio, May 23.—The third conviction in the legislative bribery scandal came today when a jury found State Senator Isaac E. Huffman guilty of accepting a bribe of $200. Sentence was deferred.

This was Huffman's second trial, the former resulting in a disagreement of the jury. The senator was found guilty of accepting the money from Frank Harrison Smiley, a detective, and evidence brought out at the trial, as in the other two cases, showed much spectacular work in the detective line was practiced upon the legislators. A telephonic device recording alleged conversations played an important part.

Rodney Diegle, the senate sergeant-at-arms, now is serving a three-year sentence in the penitentiary for his part in the scandal, and State Senator Andrews has been convicted, but sentence has been deferred. Several others are yet to be tried on indictments.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON CREMATORY

Once More Finance Committee Refers It Back to Health Board.

City of Atlanta Is as Far Away as Ever from Getting Rid of the Death-Dealing Dump Heaps Which Threaten Health.

To again postpone action on a garbage plant: Aldermen Johnson, Ragsdale, Nutting and Spratling and Councilman Vaughan—5.

To adopt the recommendation of the board of health: Councilmen Knight, Greer and Humphrey—3.

That was the vote of the finance committee of the city council yesterday afternoon on a motion to refer the garbage question back to the board of health. This means another long delay with the probability that the board of health will renew its former recommendation that the city accept the bid of the New York Destructor Company.

This action was taken by the finance committee despite the statement of the president of the board of health, Dr. W. L. Gilbert, that the board had spent nearly two years investigating all phases of the garbage plant question and would doubtless make the same recommendation that it had already made.

Another Expert Wanted.

The resolution to refer the question back to the board of health was made by Alderman Ragsdale and carries with it the proviso that another expert be employed by the city to make a report on the proposition of the J. A. Forsyth Company to build a crematory for $50,000 which would take care of 250 tons of garbage a day.

The finance committee first held an open session in which all persons were allowed to make propositions for a garbage plant.

The first person heard was W. G. Kirkpatrick, the city engineer of Birmingham, who stated that the Kirkpatrick, Culley, McCorkle & Boyles Company would build a crematory of ten units at $5,000 a unit, each unit to dispose of about 30 tons of garbage a day. He stated that small garbage plants could be placed in different sections of the city and thereby save the cost of hauling.

Councilman Knight asked if the finance committee was called upon to consider only the recommendation of the board of health. Alderman Candler replied that the finance committee had full power to decide what kind of plant they should buy.

He Didn't Get Mad.

"Don't get mad," remarked Councilman Knight.

"Oh, I will not," replied Alderman Candler, chairman of the committee.

J. A. Forsyth addressed the committee in behalf of his proposition and stated that he would build the city a ten-unit plant which would dispose of 250 tons of garbage a day at a cost of $50,000 and that his company would give a bond to that amount to insure a high temperature plant which would cost $45.50 a day for operating expenses. He admitted that his plant would have no force draft and no boilers. He stated that the reason why his company did not bid to the board of health was because the specifications called for certain machinery which was patented. This was em-

TEDDY AND TAFT BATTLING FOR THE JERSEY DELEGATES

Colonel Not Worrying Since Ohio—He's Letting the Other Fellow Do the Worrying.

Taft Shows Strain, But Still Bitterly Attacks Roosevelt. Admits That He's Humiliated.

Newark, N. J., May 23.—"I thought I'd had a middling lively time in the west, but upon my word New Jersey beats it."

Colonel Roosevelt made this remark in a speech here tonight. The people had been cheering for several minutes before he could get a word in. There were no seats on the main floor of the armory where he spoke, and several thousand persons stood closely wedged together while he spoke.

"You Are All Right, Teddy."

The rally came toward the close of the opening day of Colonel Roosevelt's New Jersey campaign. Wherever he went he was met by large crowds. He made a dozen speeches today.

After Colonel Roosevelt told the armory crowd that New Jersey had beaten the west some one called out:

"You're all right, Teddy."

"So is New Jersey," he shouted in reply. "But the impulsive judgment of the people of Ohio was all right, too. Everybody is all right," he added as the crowd laughed.

"I want to express my profound appreciation," Colonel Roosevelt began, but the crowd was not ready to stop cheering, and he had to stop again. "I hope you'll vote as you shout," he said. Some one called to him that he need not worry about New Jersey, to which he replied:

"I'm not worrying about anything now. Let the other fellows do the worrying."

Referendum on Judicial Decisions.

In his speech today the colonel for the most part avoided criticism of President Taft. He dwelt more upon questions of policy in national and state government. In speaking tonight in defense of his proposal for a referendum upon certain classes of judicial decisions, he said:

"If there is any point upon which I am absolutely sure I am right it is upon that point. I would allow every bar association in the country to hammer me for twenty years without persuading me I wasn't right.

"My opponents ought by this time to know," he continued, "that they can't frighten me out of any position that I think is essential to justice. Mr. Taft says I am a neurotic. I'm not concerned about that. I'm pretty healthy yet.

"I didn't become a progressive through any close study. I became one by mixing with my fellow men. It was about thirty-three years ago that I left college and began my education.

"Mr. Taft says he distrusts the impulsive judgment of the people. He probably feels it more strongly than ever, after getting the impulsive judgment of Ohio."

Crooked Business—Crooked Politics.

Mr. Roosevelt said his fight was a simple one, but more important than any since the days of Lincoln. He characterized the opposition as an "alliance between crooked business and crooked politics, which has been the most fertile source of corruption in American life."

He asserted that many of the newspapers which championed Parker against Roosevelt in 1904 now were working for Taft.

"We are revolutionary," declared Roosevelt, "only in the sense that Washington and Lincoln and their colleagues were revolutionary. We preach hatred of no class except the class of crooks, and even in that case we hate the crookedness and do not wish to hurt the crooks unless it is absolutely necessary in order to stop their crookedness."

Most of the day Colonel Roosevelt spent in traveling from town to town by automobile At almost every place he found difficulty in making himself heard on account of the noisy reception given him.

Trenton, N. J., May 23.—President Taft began his New Jersey campaign tonight with speeches at Camden, Burlington and Trenton. The president showed the effects of his hard campaign through Ohio, and spoke with less emphasis than he did last week.

At Camden, where he addressed a crowd that filled the armory, he once again deprecated the entrance of a president into political controversy, and attacked Colonel Roosevelt in the same bitter language he used before.

Before speaking in Camden he motored several miles through the city streets. He was frequently cheered. At the armory the president spoke standing on a table. At Burlington he was met by a brigade carrying Chinese lanterns and redfire. At Trenton he motored through streets lined with cheering crowds.

Taft Feels Humiliated.

Here, in part, is the president's speech at Camden, which was much like the other two delivered tonight:

"I regret the necessity that brings me out. I feel humiliated that I, as president of the United States, am the first one that has to depart from the tradition that keeps the president at home during a political controversy.

"I am not here to clear my political reputation. The muckraking magazines and newspapers that have been attacking me since early in my administration I care nothing for except as they may poison the minds of the people to do something that they may regret. I am content to abide the judgment of the American people, taken years after the event, when the clouds have rolled by and the mists of misconception have cleared away, nor am I moved to come here by personal ambition.

Taft Says It's a Crisis.

"I can get along with one term. It is not so many men in the United States that have even that; and a second term is not essential to my happiness, but, my friends, I am here to warn you that in this preliminary contest before the Chicago convention there is a crisis in your country's history that ought to spur you to activity to prevent the dangers that threaten us as a constitutional government. And it is because of the undeserved accusations against my administration that I have felt it necessary to come out and meet those accusations.

"I claim—perhaps I am wrong about it—but I claim that this has been a business administration that has gone along enforcing the laws and doing the best it could and keeping the balance on the right side of the ledger. And I want to know in what respect we have failed. If we have, I am willing to submit to your condemnation. If we haven't, why, then, are we not entitled to the approval of the people?

Why Taft Opposes Roosevelt.

"I am opposed to Mr. Roosevelt, first because of the character of the campaign that he has been carrying on, which has brought about this unprecedented necessity and spectacle of the president of the United States being called out to refute charges against the administration, and unfounded ones, at that.

"I am opposed to Mr. Roosevelt also because of the unsound constitutional vision that he has held and that he promises to put into state constitutions, and if he puts them into state constitutions, they necessarily will go into the federal constitution.

"And finally, I am opposed to him because his nomination will be a departure from a tradition that has been recognized by Washington, by Jefferson, by Lincoln, by McKinley and was preserved in the case of Grant by the people against the will of Grant's friends; and has been approved by Theodore Roosevelt. It was approved by him in 1904, an dit was reinforced by him in 1908. I appeal from Theodore Roosevelt now to Theodore Roosevelt then. If you depart from that tradition and give him a third term, there is not the slightest reason why you should not give him a fourth term, and if a fourth term, then the barriers are all broken down, the tradition which

MISS ORA STAMPS,
Principal Edgewood School.

The contest of the six public schools competing for the $100 prize, offered by Walter Rich for the best display of plants and flowers grown by the pupils during the scholastic year 1911-12, was decided yesterday, and the prize will today be awarded to Edgewood school.

The fact that the Edgewood school is to receive the prize has been kept a profound secret, and the children will learn of it for the first time this morning when they read The Constitution. prize awarded to Edgewood school.

The history of the contest proves that it is one of the most significant episodes marking the progress of the public school system.

No innovation has ever met with a more enthusiastic response from the pupils of every school contesting, and the patrons in some of the schools have been as interested as pupils and teachers.

The report of the school winning the prize, which itemizes the actual work of the children, is a remarkable document, which does not include, however, some of the most important incidents bringing about the prize-winning results.

Boys Acted as Horses.

It indicates considerable enthusiasm that when two wagon loads of stone dust were needed for walks, and there was no money to hire a team, six of the boys hitched themselves to a wagon which they borrowed, and hauled the dirt themselves.

Two hundred and fifty dollars had been given the school by the city before the prize was offered, but this money was used for the building of a retaining wall, and the prize was awarded on the strength of the actual work done by the pupils and the magnitude of the results.

The committee was composed of five ladies appointed by the board of education from the Atlanta Art Association. They were: Mrs. Joseph N. Moody, chairman; Miss Sallie Eugenia Brown, Mrs. Edgar Neely, Mrs. Clarence Blosser, Mrs. Haralson Bleckley and Mrs. W. A. Gregg, who is also a member of the lady board of visitors.

Work of All the Schools.

Work of the committee was exceedingly difficult, in that several of the schools had worked so hard and accomplished so much as to make the decision in many respects a very close one. The committee was so delighted with what had been done that each member regretted it was possible to reward but one school and, in fact, as their report will show, they secured another prize, the gift of the Atlanta Art Association, and Walter Rich, to be presented to Highland school.

The work at Ashby street, a small school, where the physical condition of the yard was such as to make any effort very difficult, was highly commended, and the committee declared itself much impressed with the splendid spirit of the community, the parents of the children having taken as much interest in the progress of planting and tending as did the boys and girls.

Lee street school has been untiring in its effort and its system of beautifying the grounds has included a

1,000 REBELS DEAD ON FIELD; OROZCO FLEEING

After 24 Hours of Fighting Mexican Rebels Are Routed by the Federal Forces.

ARTILLERY OF FEDERALS MOWED DOWN THE REBELS

Night Attack by the Federals, Which Took the Rebels by Surprise, Was the Turning Point of the Battle—Believed That Orozco's Defeat Means End of Rebellion.

ABOUT A THOUSAND REBELS KILLED IN THE BATTLE

Mexico City, May 23.—President Madero predicted tonight an early termination of the Mexican revolution as a result of today's federal victory at Rellano. According to official advices, between 800 and 1,000 rebels were killed or wounded. This estimate is made in a dispatch to the president from General Huerta. Casualties on the government side were not announced.

At the Rebel Front, Corralitos, Mexico, May 23, 9 p. m.—Again General Orozco's army of rebels today retreated before the artillery fire of General Huerta, comanding the government troops. As at Conejos a week ago the rebels were unable to withstand the hail of shells that poured into their ranks and retired north from Rellano to this town, which several weeks ago was the scene of a rebel victory.

For nearly twenty-four hours the two main forces of the government and rebel troops were engaged. The losses could not be estimated, but casualties will be numerous on both sides.

Tonight the federals surprised the rebel army with a night attack, using principally their artillery, which had proved so effective in the daylight fighting. General Orozco himself was awakened by the bursting of shells near him, and personally directed the movement of his men in an effort to silence the federal guns.

Much Random Firing.

All during the battle the federals seemed to indulge in wanton waste of ammunition. The rebels were cautioned to conserve their powder and shot as much as possible, but even then a great quantity of it was wasted in random firing.

When the federal infantry advanced upon the carefully-selected position of the rebels they were protected by a heavy artillery fire. The rebels were slow to reply to this with what artillery they had, but they poured a deadly infantry fire into the advancing line.

Federals once attempted a flank movement toward the east, paving the way with cannon.

Orders were given by rebel officers to guard the approaches of the valley. Meanwhile the government troops brought into play more machine guns, but the fire of the rebel infantry and dismounted cavalry was felt by the federals. The shells ploughed their way into the positions stubbornly defended by the rebels, but the latter finally had the satisfaction of seeing this maneuver abandoned.

General Orozco was constantly on the firing line.

REBELS ARE IN FLIGHT, PURSUED BY THE FEDERALS

Mexico City, Mexico, May 23.—General Huerta has reported to the president in a telegram from Rellano that

CRAZED BY GRIEF, HE SEEKS TO JOIN BROTHER IN DEATH AND KILLS SELF AT FUNERAL

Albany, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—So overwhelmed by grief that his mind gave way, Samuel Brannon, a well-known young man living near Acree, in the western part of this county, rose from his seat in the church where his brother's funeral was being held, kissed his aunt and sisters affectionately, walked out of the front door and sent a bullet through his brain.

John Brannon died Tuesday morning and the funeral was held yesterday at Old Bethel church, miles from a railroad and in a section of country where many white farmers make their homes. The church was crowded. One hymn had been sung and the scripture lesson read by the minister and another hymn was being given out.

The grief of Samuel Brannon over his brother's death had been uncontrollable and the members of the family had been unable to comfort him. Suddenly he rose from his seat, went to where his aunt, Mrs. Lewis, was sitting, put his arms around her neck and kissed her affectionately on the cheek; next he leaned over his sister, who was sitting in the same pew, and kissed her in like manner.

He then turned and left the church. Those in the congregation believed that he was going out in the hope that he could better control his emotion, but hardly had he passed through the door of the church, when the report of a pistol rang out and persons who rushed from the building found the young man prostrate on the ground with a bullet in his brain. He lived for several hours, but did not regain consciousness.

A casket was secured and the body placed in it and at 6:30 o'clock the bodies of the two brothers were placed side by side in the grave yard adjoining Old Bethel church.

John Brannon had been married only about two months and was farming on the Trellie Wooten place, in the extreme northeastern part of Dougherty county. He was a few years older than Samuel Brannon, who was 22 years of age. The aged father of the two young men is prostrated with grief.

at noon today he had defeated the rebels and was in possession of Rellano. The rebels, he said, were in full retreat northward, pursued by his cavalry.

General Huerta's telegram was as follows:

"At 12:30 p. m. our troops took the last and most important position of the rebels. Cavalry in two divisions is following, harassing the rebels on both flanks. Our revenge for Rellano is taken."

General Huerta referred to the recent defeat of General Gonzales Salas at Rellano.

In an earlier telegram, which was received in Mexico City at 2 p. m. the federal commander said:

"I have recovered from the enemy great quantities of arms and ammunition. It is known that the enemy has lost six hundred dead. I believe there were many more, but am unable to say definitely, as the zone of our artillery fire was very large, being more than 14 kilometers in extent. There were more than 4,000 of the enemy concentrated and occupying studied and formidable positions. The result is a veritable triumph. The battle lasted twenty-five hours. They had much artillery and used it freely against us, but Colonel Rubio (in command of the federal artillery), as always, was admirable. The firing provoked a heavy rainstorm, through which both sides fought without stopping."

OROZCO'S ARMY IS DEPLETED BY NUMEROUS DESERTIONS

Washington, May 23.—Orozco's soldiers continue to desert in large numbers, according to reports to the state department today. The rebels south of Torreon are engaged in burning bridges and cutting communication with the towns south of that place. The Americans at Velardena and Asarco, Durango, who several days ago were reported in straits because of lack of supplies after feeding the rebel column, apparently are in better shape. The federal commander of the Monterey zone declared that the rebels were driven out of those places yesterday.

limits us to two terms is gone, and one man becomes essential to the country.

"My friends, this will be a sad day in the history of the republic when one man's existence is essential to our country."

Taft's Train 40 Minutes Late.

The president's train was more than 45 minutes late at Trenton. Mr. Taft spoke in the armory to a crowd, many of whom had been waiting nearly two hours. As at Camden and Burlington, the president seemed to lack the vim and force he put into his Ohio speeches, but his audience was demonstrative, and cheered him often. He concluded his Trenton speech with a sentence that brought an unusual outburst of applause.

"We have done without Abraham Lincoln," said the president, "and we can do without the continued presidency of Theodore Roosevelt."

The president will take up the campaign again early tomorrow.

Roosevelt Hits Colombia.

Jersey City, N. J., May 23.—How the United States acquired Panama after the failure to reach an agreement with Colombia was told by Colonel Roosevelt in his speech here tonight.

"When I became president I found that negotiations looking to the construction of the isthmian canal had been pending for seventy years," he said. "I did my level best to get Colombia to come to an agreement. We were more than generous, more than just to Colombia. I finally came to the conclusion that Colombia was trying to 'hold up' Uncle Sam. I decided that it should not be done. Colombia was trying to blackmail the French company, which might have landed the French army in Panama. I could have sent a learned report to congress and there would have been an able debate, but I did not. I took the isthmus and started the canal."

DECISIVE VICTORY IS WON BY ROOSEVELT REPUBLICANS

Toledo, Ohio, May 23.—Roosevelt republicans won a decisive victory in the Lucas county republican campaign. A delegation of twenty-two members pledged to choose six delegates-at-large for Roosevelt at the state convention was named amid riotous scenes.

Oliver S. White, leader of the anti-Roosevelt forces, was assaulted, but not seriously hurt.

NO INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN BY VIRGINIA

The 24 Delegates to Baltimore Go Unbound.

Wilson's Supporters Wanted a Preferential Resolution, but Failed to Get It—One of the Delegates Is Son of Thomas F. Ryan.

Norfolk, Va., May 23.—The democrats of Virginia in state convention here today named thirty-two delegates to the democratic national convention at Baltimore, in June, to cast the Old Dominion's twenty-four votes in that convention.

With the exception of two instructed votes for Woodrow Wilson, the Virginia delegation is without ties of instructions or preferential resolutions. The first district instructed for Wilson.

Of the state's twenty-four votes, the line-up is believed to be eleven pronounced votes for Woodrow Wilson and thirteen unpronounced in choice. Of the latter, two and a half are expressed for Underwood, two and a half lean to Underwood, one is for Clark and one for Harmon.

Takes Two-Thirds to Get Unit Rule.

The unit rule will not be applied until the delegates go to Baltimore, and then not until after several ballots shall have been taken and two-thirds of the twenty-four votes are for a unit rule application in the delegation. This was a compromise with the Wilson forces, which were strong in desire to have the convention go on preferential record for their favorite candidate.

The convention, attended by nearly 1,200 delegates and alternates, was one of the best in many years held by the democrats of Virginia. The ten district conventions held prior to the main convention developed differences of various kinds, but on a whole the convention was harmonious.

The names of Wilson, Clark, Underwood and Bryan were cheered.

Son of Ryan a Delegate.

One of the features of the convention was the election to Baltimore in the tenth district convention of Thomas S. Ryan, son of the New York financier.

It was in the tenth and second districts that four delegates were elected with half a vote each and most every one was named in the tenth as a Wilson delegate to Baltimore.

James R. Caton, of Alexandria, was temporary chairman of the convention, and Representative James Hay, of the seventh was permanent chairman.

Senator Thomas S. Martin was prevented from attending the convention by the illness of his wife at Charlottesville.

This being the first state convention since the death of the late Senator John W. Daniel, the convention paid a fine tribute to his memory as a man and as a democrat.

ATLANTA-MADE GOODS ON SHOW

Local Manufacturers to Hold Monster Exhibit.

Half of the Floor Space Seized by Eager Local Firms When Project Was Launched at Capital City Club Thursday Night.

A great ten days' exhibition of Atlanta-made goods was assured for the first week in August last night, after an enthusiastic meeting of sixty Atlanta manufacturers at the Capital City Club under the auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Fifty per cent of the 20,000 square feet of floor space in the auditorium was taken before the assembled crowd dispersed, many others will send in reservations today and tomorrow after consulting their firms, and eight energetic subscribers promised to double their reservations by securing other manufacturers to take part.

"Atlanta-made goods for Atlanta, Georgia and the south" was the slogan of the dinner, and was greeted with an enthusiasm which is certain to make the exhibition a wonderful success.

According to the plans outlined before the manufacturers last night, the Auditorium is to be divided into plots of various sizes, where the manufacturers of the city can exhibit their goods to the people. Attractive decorations will be provided, music furnished for the ten days of the exhibition, and literature and samples distributed to those who are interested.

"Live Exhibits."

The feature of the show will be the "live" exhibits to be seen, that is, exhibits which show the various plants in actual operation. In this way the public will be acquainted with the excellence of the material that goes into Atlanta-made goods, the care and cleanliness exercised in their manufacture and the class of people making them, and in no other way can the public be so familiarized with Atlanta goods in such a short space of time and at such small expense. The still exhibits will attract equal attention, affording a relief from the others and displaying finished products to great advantage.

The object of the exhibition is to acquaint everybody with what Atlanta is producing now. It was said last night that Atlanta people themselves did not know what their city is doing, were not familiar with the wide range of excellent articles of every-day necessity which they can buy from local factories, but it is safe to predict that any ignorance or prejudice now existing along this line will be entirely wiped out when they see what Atlanta really can do.

After an excellent dinner last night, President Wilmer L. Moore, of the chamber of commerce, addressed the diners and stressed the fact that prosperity comes from the manufacturers, the men on whom the multitude of people depend for their weekly wage, and who, in turn, depend on the public for support of their products. He said the ignorance of Atlanta in regard to her manufactures was due to the manufacturers who had not taken the steps to put their goods before the home people, and that this exhibition gave them just the opportunity they needed.

Brooks Morgan Talks.

Brooks Morgan, chairman of the manufactures committee of the chamber, who is actively behind the movement, outlined the plan as given above, and dwelt on the need of an "Atlanta-made" label, and the necessity of acquainting the city and state with what Atlanta makes.

"Everybody in the city and state would be surprised at Atlanta's manufactures if they could see them and know them," he said. "Let's impress on the state and the south the excellence of our products, and we will increase our business from 50 to 100 per cent."

"Will it pay?" asked J. K. Orr, coming to the root of the question at first jump. He said it depended on the audience, and proceeded to show that thousands of people may be expected to attend, judging from automobile shows, fairs and other events in the past.

"Think what it would mean," he said, "if all the working people in our factories would say that they made their bread out of Atlanta and would spend their surplus for Atlanta goods. It would keep thousands in the city, and that is just the class of people we are going to reach."

Mr. Orr was followed by several others, H. H. Cabaniss, E. Van Winkle, J. T. Rose, E. K. Ward, Matthew White and others who are leading figures in the manufacturing world of the city. When the reservations for space were counted it was found that approximately 10,000 square feet, or one-half the total, had been taken, with numerous gentlemen promising to interest others and see that the total was taken this week.

Many at the dinner could not sign cards until consultation with members of their firms. They took cards home and these are expected back by Secretary Walter G. Cooper this week, when announcement will be made that the entire 20,000 square feet of space is reserved, and the details of the great show ready to be perfected.

TAYLOR'S FIANCEE ON WITNESSSTAND

Describes Tragedy Between Lover and Brother-in-Law.

Tindall, Charged With Killing, Says He Mistook Miss Carter for Wife and Thought Man Was Trying to Assault Her.

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Attracted by the strong human interest appeal in the case, a large crowd attended the trial of G. F. Tindall for the killing of Charles H. Taylor early in April, which is being held in the superior court. All of the testimony is in, and Solicitor General Matthews and Attorney Glawson, for the defense, made their arguments before adjournment. The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

The features of the day's proceedings were the statement of the defendant, who beat passionately on the railing of the stand and pleaded with the jury not to convict him and "rob that little wife sitting there of her home," and the testimony of Miss Lulu Carter, the young sister-in-law of Tindall who was found by him in the arms of Taylor, and over whom the shooting started. Tindall's principal contention was that he had shot, thinking that the woman Taylor was caressing was his wife.

Sympathy for Tindall.

There were but five witnesses put up in all, and all were state's witnesses. Tomorrow morning Attorney McNeill, working with the solicitor general for the state, will be heard in argument and John R. Cooper will make the concluding argument for the defense. Tindall seems to have a shade of public sympathy on his side.

When called to the stand to make his statement, Tindall told of having come home at night after working all day to see a couple of figures in the dark of the porch. He had not known, he said, that his sister-in-law was at his home and he jumped to the conclusion that the woman must be his wife.

"I thought," said Tindall on the stand, "it was my wife there on the steps. I saw the man, and my first idea was that he was trying to make an assault on her. I thought they were in a compromising attitude, and furthermore, I did not know of the relationship between my sister-in-law and Taylor. I am sorry, sorry as can be, for what has happened. Oh, I am sorry."

Miss Carter on Stand.

Miss Carter was called to the stand and Attorney McNeill, for the state, asked:

"When Tindall reproached Taylor for his treatment of you, did he utter a word?"

"No."

"Did he try to get a weapon?"

"I don't know."

"Could you have seen it if he had?"

"I could, if he had gone into his hip pocket, yes."

John R. Cooper then took up the cross-examination and said:

"Did your parents object to Taylor's attention to you?"

"Yes."

"Didn't you go to the Dinkler hotel about midnight one night to see Taylor?"

"No," said the girl, indignantly; "I went with Charley Taylor to see his father."

Later on in the cross-examination, in answer to a question from the lawyer as to the message that had called her to the Dinkler with Taylor on that night, Miss Carter said:

"I went there with him to see his father about our marriage. We were to be married soon, but when we got there he got drunk and I refused to marry him."

"Was he drinking when he came to Tindall's house on the night of the shooting?"

"I took him to be sober."

"Did he have a bottle?"

"I didnt see any."

"When Tindall told him that was no way to treat a lady, what did he do? Did he advance on him and make a lunge at him?"

"Yes, he came at him like this," said Miss Carter, raising her arm in the attitude of one about to strike a blow with the fist.

MEETING PLACES FOR DELEGATES

Where Various Districts Will Hold Conferences.

Delegates from Each District to Gather Just Preceding Convention to Nominate Delegates to Baltimore and Presidential Elector.

Arrangements has been completed by Manager G. R. Hutchens for meeting places for all of the district delegates to the state convention of next Wednesday.

In several instances Mr. Hutchens received word from members of district delegations as to where they would like to hold their pre-convention conferences, and he has made arrangements accordingly.

Where he has heard nothing from the districts, he has selected meeting places as announced herewith, and there will be no expense whatever attached to them. Should it happen that the delegates from any district desire some other meeting place than the one selected for them, they will be at perfect liberty to make their arrangements accordingly.

Few district delegations ever arrange their meeting places in advance, and Manager Hutchens has acted in the matter in advance, simply for their convenience.

To Make Nominations.

The object of these pre-convention meetings on the part of the various district delegations is to nominate district delegates to the national democratic convention at Baltimore, and presidential electors from their districts.

These nominations will be submitted to the state convention for its approval.

It will be noted that Manager Hutchens has endeavored to arrange all of the district meeting places as close as possible to the convention hall—the Grand Opera house.

Where They Will Meet.

Following are the places and times of meetings of the various district delegations preceding the convention:

First District—Randolph Anderson, here Thursday, made arrangements for a meeting of the delegates from the first congressional district for Tuesday evening, at an hour to be named later, at the first district headquarters engaged by Mr. Anderson at the Kimball house. The meeting will be held at an hour not to conflict with Mr. Watson's conference, if he holds one.

Second District—Right side of first balcony of the Grand at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Third District—Left side of first balcony of the Grand at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Fourth District—Right side of orchestra, or pit, circle of Grand, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Fifth District—Meeting to be held in the ballroom of the Kimball house Saturday, the 25th instant, at 12:30 o'clock.

Ninth District—In the second floor parlors of the Aragon hotel, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Tenth District—Ballroom at Kimball house at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Eleventh District—In the space between the door and the brass railing of the pit at the Grand Opera house, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Twelfth District—At the Aragon hotel, in the district headquarters already engaged by W. W. Larsen, one of the delegates.

NO PANAMA TOLLS FOR YANKEE SHIPS

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 23.—(Special.)—The bill for the opening and operation of the Panama canal and also providing for the government patrol and protection of the canal zone, was put through the house today by an overwhelming vote.

Only one material change was made in the bill as reported by Representative Adamson, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. That was to overturn the committee provision for equal tolls for all ships. This was adopted by a vote of 147 to 126. American ships in the coastwise trade will be allowed to use the canal toll free if the senate accepts this provision.

The bill is regarded as one of the most important pieces of legislation passed by the democratic house and one of the most important regulations of interstate commerce since the present interstate commerce law was vitalized in the stormy days of 1905.

Railway-Owned Ships.

The bill prohibits railroads from owning ships with which they might compete. It gives to the interstate commerce commission full power over combined water and rail transportation so that the commission may require a railroad to make a through rate with a steamship line. It requires railroads to connect with the wharves of steamship companies.

Judge Adamson was warmly congratulated by his colleagues today on his victory. The bill contained far-reaching legislation and was the work of many months. The chairman of the committee insists that he, personally, has been working on the bill for sixteen years.

It is thought that the senate will probably overturn the provision for toll free American ships, holding that such a concession would be a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which guaranteed the full and equal use of the canal to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations. There will also be a fight in the senate on the provision that railroads cannot own ships.

Position of Adamson.

The position of Judge Adamson has been that railroads were made to carry merchandise by land and steamships to be water carrier and that they ought to compete with each other and not be under the same ownership or control.

Representative Broussard, of Louisiana, sought unsuccessfully to amend the provision prohibiting railroads from operating vessels in competition with their own lines. The amendment would have made such prohibition apply specifically to the traffic through the Panama canal.

Supporters of the defeated amendment say that as the matter is now left a number of steamship lines operating on the coast will be forced either to suspend or separate themselves entirely from their railroad connections.

Plea for Free Passage.

A plea for free passage of ships in the Panama canal was made to the senate committee on interoceanic canals today by Captain Robert Dollar, of San Francisco, head of the Dollar Steamship Company. He said that congress should take this step with a view to rehabilitating the American mercantile marine.

Captain Dollar declared the shipping people generally believed the Pacific Mail and the American-Hawaiian steamship companies would get together, reduce their rates and stifle competition in order to put out of existence small steamship lines, after which the rates would be increased.

Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, formerly connected with the Atlantic Transport Company, attacked the Pacific Mail Steamship Company as a railroad-owned concern, which had not been paying dividends for years. He said that independent interests were considering the construction of twelve steamers of 10,000 tons each for the coastwise trade.

MAYOR GAYNOR WORKS FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

New York, May 23.—At a meeting today of the executive committee of Mayor Gaynor's southern flood relief committee it was announced that committees are to be appointed from all important exchanges and different branches of trade to collect funds.

The ministers of all churches are to be asked to call the attention of their congregations on Sunday to conditions existing in the south.

A plan also was set on foot to request the mayors of all cities in the United States of over 25,000 population to form local committees to raise funds to help the sufferers.

ANOTHER CHURCH CHOOSES ATLANTA

Seattle, Wash., May 23.—The United Presbyterian General Assembly voted unanimously today to hold the next meeting in Atlanta, Ga.

It was explained to the delegates that the general assemblies of the Presbyterian church in the United States and the Southern Presbyterian church would meet in Atlanta, and that, with the three assemblies in session in the same city, the plans for union might be worked out.

A telegram was received from the chairman of the committee on church union appointed by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States asking the appointment of a similar committee by the United Presbyterians. The general assembly unanimously adopted a resolution that a "committee of conference be appointed to meet with a similar committee from the other Presbyterian assemblies to ascertain whether a practical basis of union may be found."

HE SHOT THE MAN WHO TOOK HIS JOB

Willimantic, Conn., May 23.—John Murphy, a superintendent employed by the American Thread Company, is dying at a local hospital as the result of a bullet in his head fired by Michael Conners, who held Murphy's position up to a year ago. Conners was arrested after the shooting. According to the police Conners confessed that he had deliberately intended to kill Murphy because the latter took his job away from him.

Naval Money Bill.

Washington, May 23.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying $118,819,837, was called up in the house today. It makes no provision for battleships, the house democratic caucus having decided that they were unnecessary. Two fuel ships, a half-dozen torpedo boat destroyers and four submarines are authorized. An effort will be made to amend the bill so as to provide for two battleships, and if it fails the fight will be carried to the senate.

A Small Initial Payment and $20 a Month, and This Beautiful Home is YOURS

This pretty home is modeled for COMFORT, as well as for beauty; and the materials used in it are such as will highly recommend it above many of the houses being built in Atlanta right now. For instance, in a large percentage of the homes that are being built nowadays, old field pine lumber is used. This soon cracks and warps, and causes the sills and joists to loosen and the walls to crack; and in a very short while the house is in need of repairs, even though it is a NEW house. This is not so with CAPITOL VIEW HOUSES—ANY of them.

In building these houses SELECTED YELLOW PINE only is used; the framing, weatherboarding, shingles, laths, plaster, paint and varnish are the very best. The doors and trim show for themselves. Oak mantels, good grates and the best tiling—that's the kind of house you are offered here.

You'll like CAPITOL VIEW, too! It's a delightful, growing suburb within twenty minutes' ride from the center of Atlanta. The residents OWN their homes and employ much of their time in beautifying their houses and grounds, which means that property values are ever on the increase.

But you can't realize the TRUE MERITS of CAPITOL VIEW without GOING there. So make an engagement with MR. W. D. BEATIE, 207 Equitable Building, and get him to take you out. Call him TODAY over either phone, 3520.

EFFECTS OF SHERMAN'S RAID TO BE STUDIED BY EXPERT

Edward Benjamin Krehbiel, professor of modern European history in Leland Stanford university, and direct representative of President David Starr Jordan, and L. L. Hill, secretary of the World Peace Congress, are at the Piedmont hotel, having come to Atlanta in pursuance of their inquiries to determine the feasibility and advisability of an investigation into the effects of war.

Peace leaders have not as yet determined upon the advisability of making such an investigation, and what may be done in the matter will doubtless depend largely upon the report to be made by Professor Krehbiel and Mr. Hall.

Professor Krehbiel called on Governor Brown Thursday and had a preliminary talk with him, his purpose being to get information as to points to be visited in Georgia, and as to parties to be consulted.

They have determined to begin their inquiry here in Georgia, starting with the territory between Chattanooga and Atlanta, the line of Sherman's famous march.

If their inquiry should lead to such an investigation as is suggested, it would be a most thorough one, making a detailed study of the effects of war in all sections of the country which have felt such effects, and going into the subject from every possible standpoint.

VICE COMMISSION WILL GO OVER CHEAP HOTELS FIRST

The vice commission will hold a second meeting in a few days. As a large number of people are interested in what steps the commission will take to eradicate the "social evil," the intentions of the commission will doubtless be of considerable interest.

It seems certain that the commission will not attempt in the near present to make any fight on the public and well-known houses of questionable character, but will first direct its efforts to close up alleged hotels and lodging houses which are used as places of assignation.

Acting under a recommendation from the commission, the city council has adopted a resolution calling for an amendment to the city charter giving the city the power to regulate hotels and lodging houses by investigation and the issuing of permits.

Nearly every member of the commission has declared that it would not be a good policy to begin a fight on the open houses, as it might result in scattering such places throughout the city, and probably resulting in more evil than good.

At the first meeting members of the commission confined their remarks solely to assignation houses, women of the street, and places which were run as alleged hotels, and which are conducted mainly as places for men to meet young girls.

One member of the commission, Councilman Humphrey, who is an ex-officio member of the police board, stated that he believed it was better to adopt measures which would save young girls than to attempt to abolish houses which were inhabited by women of known immoral character.

When the commission meets it will have data furnished by police officials and citizens regarding alleged hotels in which immorality is practiced, and cheap lodging houses which are known to be places of assignation.

The first report to council by the commission, it is stated, will include only lodging houses and cheap hotels, which the police will designate and where there is alleged immorality. No effort by the commission, it is understood, will be made, for the present at least, to abolish the known houses of ill-fame. It may be that later on recommendations may be made for the proper control of such places. Several members of the commission, it is said, are doubtful about the wisdom of seeking to peremptorily close such places.

A member of the commission said:

"The vice commission, as I understand it, has been appointed to recommend a remedy for the social evil, and the first and very best work that the commission can do will be to wipe out the places to which young girls are enticed. I believe there are in Atlanta a number of places which are run as hotels and lodging houses which are only rendezvous for men and women, and when we abolish such places we will have gone a long way toward bettering the moral condition of the city. With such places wiped out, and with the open lewd houses properly regulated, the commission will have accomplished a great work."

GREAT MEETING FOR GOOD ROADS

Convention at Cornelia to Further Proposed Highways.

Influential Citizens of North Georgia Back Routes From Greenville, S. C., to Atlanta and From Cornelia to Asheville, N. C.

Cornelia, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Two great highways, one running from Greenville, S. C., through Stephens, Habersham, Hall, Gwinnett and Banks counties, and finally ending in Peachtree road, Atlanta, and the other connecting Cornelia, Ga., with Asheville, N. C., after touching such picturesque spots as Tallulah Falls, Rabun Gap and the Tennessee valley.

These projects, which have already been well planned and are warmly advocated by the citizens along the proposed routes, will be furthered at a great meeting which will be held at Cornelia, Ga., Tuesday morning, May 28, under the auspices of the Habersham County Good Roads Association. All who are interested are invited to attend the convention, at which it is hoped definite steps will be taken towards making the plans actualities.

The route first mentioned will pass through the towns of Toccoa, Mount Airy, Cornelia, Baldwin, Alto, Lula, Gainesville and Norcross. It is urged as the logical route for the New York and Atlanta national auto highway on account of its being, for a great part of the way, on the crest of the ridge dividing the waters of the ocean and the gulf, affording tourists not only the scenic route of all this section, but by far the safest route, eliminating at least six rivers. One of its strong points is that it will have constant connection with the telephone, telegraph and the Southern railway.

The second route, after leaving Cornelia, will traverse Demorest, Clarkesville, Turnersville, Tallulah Falls, Clayton, Rabun Gap and the Tennessee valley, on through the Highlands and past Lake Toxoway, down the French Broad to Asheville, N. C., and through the mountains of North Carolina and Virginia, a distance of 356 miles, connecting with the New York and Atlanta national auto highway at some point in Virginia.

Consumers Have to Pay.

New York, May 23.—Coal consumers here found evidence that the public will have to pay the 10 per cent wage advance of the anthracite mine workers in the announcement today that the price of hard coal would be advanced 25 cents on June 1, whereby increasing the maximum price at tidewater from $5 to $5.25 a ton.

MANY MILLIONS OF MONEY REPRESENTED HERE THURSDAY

The representatives of several hundred millions of banking capital and deposits, including the treasurer of the United States, a party of eastern bankers and capitalists, and a large number of Atlanta and north Georgia bankers, left last night in a special train over the Southern for Atlantic Beach, where the twenty-first annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' Association opens this morning.

Lee McClung, whose name goes on all the paper money issued by the government, and who is watchman of untold millions as national treasurer, was the central figure in the party. He was the guest of Robert F. Maddox, president of the bankers' association.

Mr. McClung spent Thursday in the city, meeting many of his old friends. He was given a luncheon at the Capital City Club by Mr. Maddox, and last night an elaborate dinner at the Maddox country home, "Woodhaven," to which twenty-four guests were invited.

The visiting eastern bankers, who also spent the day here, coming from the Mississippi and Alabama bankers' conventions, were entertained by John C. Wheatley, southern representative of Harris, Forbes & Co., at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Among the visitors were: W. E. Purdy, Chase National bank, New York; C. B. Hays, Merchants' National bank, Baltimore; G. R. Baker, National Bank of Commerce, St. Louis; H. J. Haas, First National bank, Philadelphia; Carl Coomley, Coal and Iron bank, New York; A. H. Titus, National City bank, New York; H. M. Grape, Continental Trust Company, Baltimore; R. B. Minis, National Reserve bank, New York; W. P. Venable, Mechanics and Metals' bank, New York, and W. O. Jones, National Park bank, New York.

On the special, besides the Atlanta party, were many bankers from towns and cities north of Atlanta. Elberton sent a large delegation, there were several from Athens, and others from various points along the Seaboard and Southern. The Macon party occupied a special car that was switched on to the train at that place.

ASK CITY TO DONATE LOT FOR ANSLEY PARK SCHOOL

Inasmuch as the board of education has found it impossible to select a site for a school in Ansley Park, though the need for such is great, the committee in charge of the matter has presented a resolution asking that the city of Atlanta donate for the school a lot cut off from the northwest part of Piedmont park.

This, says the committee, seems the easiest, quickest and most satisfactory way of settling the matter. The resolution, as a report from the committee, came before the board of education at its meeting Thursday, and was adopted. It will be sent to council with the request that council act in the matter.

The resolution asks that a lot with a frontage of 300 feet on Piedmont avenue and a depth of 400 feet be cut from the northwest section of the park. It points out that this is a wild, unused portion of the park, but that it is admirably suited for a school site.

It is conveniently located to [illegible] residents of the eighth ward, who will patronize the school, and the cutting of the lot will in no wise interfere with the beauty of the park, says the resolution.

The need for a new school in that locality is so great, asserts the resolution, that council should cede the desired site at once.

The bond commission has already appropriated $10,000 for this school, and the amount has been supplemented by $10,000 from council, but failure to agree on a site has delayed the matter.

The resolution offering a solution of the difficulty was given to the board by Shepard Bryan, George M. Hope and James L. Key.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY MEETS FAVOR OF SCHOOL BOARD

Unanimously indorsing the establishment of domestic economy work in the public schools, the board of education yesterday passed a resolution asking that council make an appropriation of $100 for the purpose of purchasing the cooking school equipment already installed at the Girls' High school.

The resolution went further and requested that council appropriate $1,500, or such sum as may be necessary, to maintain the cooking department in the two high schools during the year.

The matter came up when a request was read from Miss Nettie Sergeant, principal of the Girls' High school, in which she asked that the board give her the $100 needed to purchase the $500 worth of equipment installed free for three weeks by the gas company.

It was the opinion of the board that the finance committee could not rightly take money from its expense fund for a department which had not been formally established; but agreed that the domestic science work was important and worthy of being financed.

The resolution was adopted asking council to make provision for the funds needed.

GEN. O'BEAR ATTENDING MEETING OF GUARDSMEN

Adjutant General W. G. Obear left the city yesterday for Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the national guard organization, which is working for the passage by congress of the militia pay bill. This measure is about to be taken up in the house, or is expected to reach that stage within the next few days. The national guard all over the country is deeply interested in the movement, as its success will mean pay for its officers and men for service rendered.

You can't help having a good time at Warm Springs. There is something doing all the time.

TWENTY-THREE GRADUATE FROM AMERICUS SCHOOL

Americus, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Twenty-three graduates were presented diplomas this evening in the commencement exercises marking the close of the Americus public school. This class is the largest in years, and the exercises interested a crowded auditorium.

Seventeen hundred pupils attended the Americus schools this session, and the year ended today is numbered among the best in the history of the local system. Superintendent Augustus Miller, who resigned recently to accept the superintendency of the Waycross public schools, will be succeeded by Professor J. Edward Mathis, at present mayor of Americus.

LINEMAN AT MARIETTA KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

Marietta, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Lewis Shewmake, a lineman at work for the Bell Telephone Company, was killed here today by coming in contact with the wires of the old lighting plant. He was climbing a pole and his body touched the electric wires at a point where the insulation was off. He fell to the ground, bringing the wires down with him. He recently came here from Woodstock. He leaves a wife and one small child.

PARENTS PROTEST AGAINST TEACHER

If Professor S. A. Merchants is returned to the East Atlanta school as principal, the school will have to be closed, declared Mrs. L. P. Gibson, one of a number of East Atlanta residents who are discontented with the present state of affairs at the East Atlanta school.

Through a committee of five men, the dissatisfied patrons Thursday formally requested the board of education not to return Professor Merchants to the school. No specific charges were made in the petition, but it was alleged that he was not the proper man for the place. The petition was signed by a number of people.

According to Mrs. Gibson, who has been active in securing signatures to the petition, over forty children are now out of the school because of the parents' dislike of Professor Merchants.

The request is the outgrowth of a similar request which was preferred last year.

"He is not a fit man for the place," declared Mrs. Gibson. "He does not talk as he should to the pupils, and we do not like him. If they send him back the school will close."

The matter has been turned over to Superintendent William M. Slaton for investigation.

The committee who called Thursday on the board of education were Dr. E. F. Fincher, L. P. Gibson, L. A. Rivers, C. B. McDaniel and A. R. Young.

ATLANTA IS SELECTED BY HARDWARE DEALERS

Athens, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The Georgia Retial Hardware Association concluded its seventh annual convention here this afternoon after a most successful meeting in Athens. There were four Georgia towns whose names begin with "A" mentioned for the meeting place of next year—Atlanta, Americus, Albany and Augusta. Savannah and Waycross were actually in the running, but retired. Atlanta won in a close race with Americus.

Officers were elected as follows: President, T. G. Greene, Eatonton; first vice president, J. R. Hall, Moultrie; second vice president, J. E. Sapp, of Albany, and John L. Moore, Madison, re-elected treasurer. Representatives to the National Retail Hardware Association convention in Detroit in June are: C. B. Thomas, Griffin, and P. S. Twitty, Dublin; alternates, T. W. Brobston, Athens, and W. G. Raines, Statesboro.

The executive committee chosen is: J. R. Hall, Moultrie; George W. Woodruff, retiring president, Winder; W. W. Robinson, Thomasville; J. L. Moore, Madison; J. B. Hardeman, Commerce, and J. E. Sapp, Albany.

NEW COMMITTEE NAMED ON ODD FELLOWS' HOME

Gainesville, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The sixty-ninth session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Georgia concluded its work Thursday afternoon and the delegates have all returned to their homes. A special train over the Southern railway left Gainesville at 6 o'clock bearing the delegates from points to and beyond Atlanta.

Practically the entire morning and afternoon sessions were taken up with routine work. The newly elected officers were installed before adjournment and new committees for the ensuing year announced.

At the morning session the advocates of the establishment of a permanent Odd Fellows' home in Georgia had the matter reconsidered, after its defeat yesterday, and the grand lodge voted to appoint a new committee to further consider the matter and make report at the 1913 session of the grand lodge at Savannah.

The delegates expressed themselves as delighted with the entertainment given them by the people of Gainesville and the grand lodge adopted a resolution of thanks to the community.

WORLD UNITY WANTED FOR THE METHODISTS

Baltimore, May 23.—Following the action on union with the Methodist Episcopal and the Southern Methodist denominations, the Methodist Protestant general conference at its session here today took steps toward greater unity of Methodists of the whole world. This idea was brought up by the report of the commission on ecumenical Methodist congress.

Plans for a permanent commission were suggested which, according to this scale of representation from the ten or more of Methodist church organizations, white and colored, throughout the world would have a membership of nearly fifty.

The aim of this permanent commission, the report says, will be "to gather and exchange information concerning the condition, progress and problems of the various Methodist churches, to promote closer fellowship and cooperation between them, to further great moral causes affecting the peace and welfare of our countries and to make arrangements for our next conference."

The report was referred to a committee for final report.

Contrary to expectation the election of the commission on union with the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal church, south, churches was not held today.

MORE RECRUIT STATIONS WILL BE ESTABLISHED

Plans are being made to increase the number of naval recruiting stations in Georgia, and branch offices will soon be opened at Macon and Savannah. The reason for the new offices and the abandonment of some old ones is said to be the excellent results obtained by the Georgia offices and the high quality of men who enlist in this state.

The Macon office will be opened July 1, and it is probable some one now attached to the Atlanta headquarters will be put there in charge. The Chattanooga office will be closed July 30. No orders have been received yet concerning the establishment of a station in Savannah, but they are expected daily.

DO YOU KNOW MR. WIRTZ? IS HE WORTH $28,000,000?

Governor Brown received a letter yesterday from the widow of Joseph Salzer, a resident of the grand duchy of Luxembourg, in which she seeks information regarding the late Gaspar Brener-Wirtz, who, she says, was a proprietor of mines in Georgia, and who is reported to have left an estate of $28,000,000. No one around the capitol seems to have heard anything of the late wealthy miner. Mrs. Salzer is, apparently, a relative of the "mine proprietor," who is said to have left more money than anybody in Georgia was ever worth at any one time—at least, according to the tax books—and would no doubt like to share in the division of it.

$25,000 WILL BE USED FOR GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL

The aldermanic board yesterday afternoon voted to appropriate next year $25,000 for the commercial department of the Girls' High school in the erection of a new building. Council voted $35,000. The matter will have to go back again to the council for ratification.

FRANCIS IS CHARGED AS PROFESSIONAL BONDSMAN

The aldermanic board yesterday afternoon refused to concur in the action of council allowing T. L. Francis to pay $250 each in two bonds of $1,000 which he signed for the appearance of J. R. Noland and J. W. Jones in the police court on the charge of selling whisky.

It was charged by Alderman McClelland that Francis was a professional bondsman, and made money by signing bonds. On the report of the claims committee council voted to allow Francis to pay $500 in lieu of the two bonds of $1,000 each.

The matter will go back to council again and will probably cause considerable discussion before it is settled.

EX-MAYOR OF ATHENS OUT FOR LEGISLATURE

Athens, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—J. Frank Rhodes, former mayor of Athens, this evening announced his candidacy for one of the two places from Clarke in the legislature. The other candidates are C. B. DuBose, present representative, having no opposition for the senate.

PIECE OF GREEN SOD PRESCRIBED FOR ILLS

Waycross, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—A panacea for all human ailments, recommended by the originator and said to be unsurpassed for many very serious diseases, is being sold through this section. One of the "prescriptions" found its way into a newspaper office, and is published as follows: "Before sunrise, go out and turn up a piece of green sod. Hold same carefully in the hand, breathe on it three times, and then replace." If the ailment is of long standing, it is advised to repeat the performance two or three times. This information is being retailed for a quarter of good money.

STEVE TOMPKINS GETS RESPITE FROM GALLOWS

Dublin, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Steve Tompkins will not hang tomorrow. On account of illness, Tompkins' attorneys asked for more time in which to prepare for the motion for a new trial.

Judge Hawkins granted the request and the motion will come up before Judge Hawkins on May 27.

If a new trial is refused the case will be appealed to the supreme court, and it will be several weeks before a decision is rendered.

JUST 13 U. S. SENATORS TAKE AWAY $15,000,000

Washington, May 23.—With just thirteen senators present, the senate today passed Senator Heyburn's bill appropriating $15,000,000 for the purchase of land south of Pennsylvania avenue in this city for the erection of public buildings. The idea back of the measure is the concentration of executive buildings.

A New Novel by the Author of THE INNER SHRINE

THE STREET CALLED STRAIGHT

GOING direct to the heart of this remarkable story, we find a girl of fine instincts—beautiful and loyal as well—placed by her lackadaisical father's misdeeds in a position toward two men—both of whom love her—which makes her life a question-mark staring her in the face. One man is English, one American, and they fight it out to the inevitable end—however, the girl also has something to say about it. What that end is—and how it is reached—makes THE STREET CALLED STRAIGHT the most brilliant novel of this author. Not since "The Inner Shrine" burst on the horizon of the American reading public has there been a novel of the peculiar quality of THE STREET CALLED STRAIGHT.

THE ISSUES AND THE MEN.

Conditions governing the pre-convention presidential campaign of both parties have become sufficiently simplified to admit of a fairly clear view of the situation.

On the republican side, two issues stand out with singular uniqueness. The first is the third-term proposition which, in the event of Colonel Roosevelt's nomination, will for the first time in American history be actively projected into a national contest. The second is the menace of Wickershamism and Hitchcockism which, in the event of Taft's renomination, must inevitably be the focus of the fight for and against the big Ohioan. Admittedly, the deadweight of these two cabinet officers has already brought the president to the brink of defeat for the simple reason that the things for which they stand constitute the gravest menace to the free institutions of America with which the country has ever been confronted. Beside them the third-term specter pales into insignificance.

Over every process of federal government, into every phase of the Taft administration, these two malignant influences have spread a poisonous trail. Their malicious and tyrannous conduct has brought it to this: That under the administration of which they are a part, government in this country is increasingly threatened with losing forever its distinguishing characteristic of democracy and taking on instead the loathsome and repressive nature of despotism in its worst form. In the face of this danger, of which the American people have shown themselves fully cognizant, it is folly to suppose that they will not take steps to check it in its half-growth, even though that may mean the repudiation of one of the broadest and most likable presidents the country has ever had; even though it may mean the shattering of the third-term precedent, heretofore unbroken law in America.

Viewing this peculiar status in the republican party, the duty and the opportunity of the democracy is as clear as crystal. There must be nominated at Baltimore a conservative democrat, a man who stands, in every moral and mental fiber, for government by the constitution, not for usurpation by bureaucrats. A man, additionally, who is automatically identified with sane tariff revision, for when all the "isms" and prismatic gauds of the campaign are disposed of—tariff revision stands out as the one indisputable issue upon which either party wins and loses, and around which revolves every minor consideration that is contributory to or remotely affects the result in November.

Naming a man stamped with this wholesome imprimatur, bearing that legend of sound constitutional government under which our forefathers progressed before the catch-phrase "progressive" was invented—the democrats will triumph, for they will not only offer the country an escape from Wickershamism and Hitchcockism, upon the smashing of which it is determined, but they will equally appeal to that element in both parties, and among the independents, that will not swallow the third-term dose, if any reasonable avenue of escape is offered.

First and foremost—to the discard with Hitchcockism and Wickershamism! That is the first premise to democratic victory. Then, the selection of a man so steel-riveted in political sanity that he will draw to the standard that huge body of Americans regarding the violation of the third-term precedent with irrevocable revulsion.

That is the necessity at Baltimore. Under such conditions it ought to be easy to find the man. The issues are already branded on the public mind!

A MAKER OF MEN RE-ELECTED.

In the turmoil about Ohio and the national situation, let us not overlook a smaller election which occurred the other day in Denver, but which, in its underlying essentials, was of primary importance not alone to the Colorado metropolis, but to the country in general. We refer to the overwhelming re-election of Judge Ben B. Lindsay as judge of the juvenile court of Denver, a place he has occupied for many terms without intermission and which he will probably continue to occupy as long as he is so minded.

Judge Lindsay is not a maker of candidates, but a maker of men, and that is much the nobler task in the long run. He may not have been the first judicial officer in this country to treat the child offender with intelligence, but to him undoubtedly belongs the distinction of discharging his functions in such manner as to set a model for the entire country.

Under his skillful and intuitive rule the gamin who stole an apple, who fought on the streets, or even who perpetrated some graver species of iniquity, has been treated as a being who may be reclaimed to normality, not, as heretofore, damned forever by being thrown into contact with the vilest and most callous of chronic criminals.

Lindsay has been to the juvenile criminal what Froebel was to the child itself, taking out the moral and mental kinks before they became permanent, substituting for criminal impulses the instinct for righteousness and manhood, transforming liars into tellers of truth and even turning the child-pervert into a creature in whose face and habits were written uprightness and promise.

Few finer or more constructive opportunities for service to society offer than in those grasped with efficiency by Judge Lindsay. He has attacked the penitentiary, the insane asylum, the gallows, the poorhouse and the saloon where they really are born—in the plastic mind of childhood, which may be swayed toward vice or virtue as guidance in the receptive years is of the understanding or the negligent type.

More such men as he are needed in America. A specialist in moral and mental prophylaxis, his influence has spread to every state in the country. The seed he has sown will bring harvest long after he has passed and in places his kindly-dreaming mind has never contemplated.

FOOLISHLY ATTACKING CUPID.

The chief probation officer of the juvenile court of Chicago is trying to have the rear seat on the motorcycle abolished in the belief its absence will lessen elopements.

Many nostrums, wise and otherwise, have been tried out with the express hope and purpose of thwarting Cupid in his salad years. Some have availed temporarily, but most have failed and will continue so to do, as long as romance calls to youth and a preacher or a justice can be found willing to tie the knot.

The belief that the abolition of the rear seat on motorcycles will daunt young Lochinvars of the twentieth century is about as futile as was that delusion that the colonel couldn't "come back." If the republican-created cost of living does not take the enthusiasm out of the wishful benedict, lack of a little old rear seat on a motorcycle certainly will not perform a miracle vainly essayed since Adam and Eve discovered a mutual fondness in the garden of Eden.

A Lazy Chap.

I reckon that this world of ours is most amazin' sweet;
I'd dance to every May-wind, but the hot sand burns my feet;
I'd rather slip the weather when the warm sun's on the shine;
Give me a brisk old blizzard, and a world o' snow in mine!

Lazyin' away
The winter as the May,
I've come to the conclusion
I was born for holiday!

I see the toiler at his task and wish him mighty well:
He'll have a field o' cotton and a hill o' corn to sell;
I see him there, behind the plow; the furrow's straight and long,
But I'd rather rest 'neath shady trees and hear a bird's sweet song.

Lazyin' away
Where trouble cannot stay,
Oh, I've come to the conclusion
I was born for holiday!

When Comes June.

I.

When sweet June comes tripping
In valleys all blossom-blown,
Her wind-tossed tresses dripping
With fragrance and dew and dawn,
The little sprite goes dancing
O'er hillsides and through meadows,
Plays hide-and-seek with Brownies
That peep out thro' the shadows.

II.

When sweet June comes singing
Among the trees and flowers,
Her dimpled fingers flinging
A mist of pearly showers—
So young and fair comes tripping,
Her Mother Earth to greet,
(Oh, hear them gladly meet!)
And the tender little skipping
Of daisy-sandaled feet!

Wiley, Jr., for their daughter. Mr. Allen has taken a vigorous part in the fight for pure food.

TAFT IS NOT HELPED BY LATER OHIO RETURNS

Columbus, Ohio, May 23.—With the general result of the presidential primary in Ohio known, interest today shifted to the outcome of the fights in the republican and democratic parties for control of the state conventions. The republican convention will take place in Columbus June 3 and 4 and the democratic in Toledo June 4 and 5.

Late returns today indicate that Roosevelt will have 32 of the delegates to the national convention and President Taft 10 as a result of the primary. The six delegates-at-large will be named by the convention and they are being claimed by both sides. Numerous county conventions will be held Saturday and a vigorous fight will be made by Taft and Roosevelt adherents.

Although returns are insufficient to show how many delegates to the national convention Governor Harmon got as a result of the primary it is believed he will have 28. The Wilson men are willing to concede but 25 to him.

The six delegates-at-large go to Harmon automatically as a result of his winning the direct preferential primary. Although returns indicate that Harmon forces will control the convention and will make an effort to pass a rule making the Ohio delegation to the Baltimore convention a unit for him, Mayor Newton Baker, of Cleveland, today declared that he would lead a fight against such action.

MANY SCHOOL TEACHERS AUTOMATICALLY DROPPED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION

That all teachers who have failed to take reinforcing examinations after having been notified to do so by the superintendent shall be automatically dropped from public schools, was the unanimous decision of the board of education at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

That this action is absolutely necessary in order to maintain the proper authority of the board, for the upholding of the high standard of the schools, and for the protection of the 22,000 children enrolled in Atlanta's schools, was the agreement of the board after an earnest discussion of the question.

The matter was brought up at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education Thursday afternoon. It was reported that many of the teachers had not only ignored the order of the board to take examinations that would determine their fitness for their position, but that they had declared they did not intend to take any such examinations, because the board was in such position that it would be compelled to elect them anyway.

Lamentable Lack of Funds.

"For years," said the superintendent, "the board, through lack of sufficient funds with which to secure proper talent for our schools, has been coerced into electing teachers who have not been able to make even the minimum mark of 70 per cent required for their election as teachers. Others have never taken any examinations at all, but the board has been forced by circumstances to elect such applicants, with the understanding that they take reinforcing examinations at a later date.

That it has been impossible to make some of the teachers appear at these reinforcing examinations was the report to the board Thursday. The instructions have been given year after year, was the statement to the board, and it has been ignored.

"No more attention has been paid to such notification than would be given to a crowd of children playing on the streets," declared one man, "and if the board wishes to maintain its authority, to insure that proper discipline shall be maintained in the schools even, it must take action in this matter."

A prompt motion to drop such teachers from the lists of the public school teachers was made at once. It was suggested that such action might be hasty in that one hundred teachers might thus be cut off.

A discussion followed, some of the board members wishing to adopt the milder course of once more notifying the teachers that they must take the examinations, with the further statement that if they failed to do so they would be dropped from their positions.

That such action was of no value, however, was the opinion of those in touch with the situation. "That has been the course of the board for the past several years," stated one member, "and the results have been the same. We can not afford to countenance such procedure longer, and in my opinion the only effective thing to do is not to offer such teachers for re-election."

After a thorough argument in order to be absolutely just in the matter, a resolution was adopted automatically dropping from the public schools those teachers who had failed to qualify through examinations after they had been notified of the requirement.

Are Given Slight Chance.

The resolution applies only to those teachers who have come into the system within the past two years, and offers them the privilege of taking the examinations, which were set for August 15 and 16. If they qualify in the fall examinations, they, with new applicants, will be eligible for teachers' places. If they make at that time the required 70 per cent they may be reinstated, although it will be entirely at the board's discretion.

The number touched will be large enough to considerably diminish the teaching force when taken in connection with the voluntary resignations, which, as usual, were submitted to the board.

PROPOSED TO DIVIDE LARGE PLANTATIONS

Washington, May 23.—Senator Fletcher, as president of the Southern Commercial Congress, today appointed a committee, composed of L. C. Irvine, Mobile, as chairman; Harvie Jordan, Atlanta; T. F. Peck, Tennesee, commissioner of agriculture; E. J. Watson, South Carolina, commissioner of agriculture, and George W. Dean, Waycross, Ga., to consider the problem of breaking up large plantations of the south into small holdings. At the Southern Commercial Congress convention in Nashville recently, it was decided to investigate the matter.

NICARAGUA NEEDS CASH AND SHE CAN'T BORROW

Washington, May 23.—Inability of Nicaragua to obtain a loan has placed that country in an embarrassing financial position, which may result in violent disorder, according to the state department dispatches from the legation at Managua. Officials of the Nicaraguan government have been impressing upon the American minister the immediate need for several hundred thousand dollars for payment of the so-called gold debts and back salaries of government employees. Unless financial assistance is promptly given, it is said, many business houses to which the government is indebted will fail.

Certain Facts About Buying Every Man and Woman Should Know

By J. R. HAMILTON

THE American people are spending many billions of dollars every year on comparatively few necessities and luxuries.

Therefore these pertinent facts should be of interest to you.

The cost of producing an article is relatively small to that of selling it. For this reason all business concerns are constantly engaged in the effort to lower their selling cost.

Up to the present time the cheapest selling method that has been discovered is—advertising.

The reason for this is that advertising reaches the greatest number of people at the lowest cost per person. That is why all the shrewdest merchants are using this selling method. And that is also why the men who do not advertise could not exist for a year if it were not for your carelessness in buying anywhere your fancy strikes.

Every time you buy an unadvertised article, you deliberately increase the price and take that increase out of your own pocketbook.

For example—it would be unwise to mention names—but there is a certain article used by nearly every family in America for which you pay from $15 to $20 more than you ought to, simply because that article is not advertised but is sold from door to door. Virtually the same article with the same standard of quality and value is also distributed through stores at a selling cost of about $5 instead of $20. Yet because of your own bad habit of not reading advertising, ninety per cent of you buy that article in the old selling way and throw away from $10 to $15 every time you do so.

And there are a hundred glaring instances of the same kind.

Of course there are some cases where a poor article is sold on advertising alone. But such articles do not last, and the men who try this plan should be put in the insane asylum. Because there is no greater fool than the man who pays his own good money to advertise his own duplicity. His course is always quickly run, because the more he gives publicity to his lies, the sooner you catch him.

Now try, with this immense buying power you have, to concentrate your expenditures. It is not necessary for a nation to be profligate because it is rich.

If advertising is the cheapest selling method for the merchant then it is certainly the cheapest buying method for you.

Learn to read your advertising daily; to use it daily, and before you realize it, you will find that your money troubles have entirely disappeared.

HOPKINS SENIOR IS NOT WORRIED

Russell Doesn't Have to Wheedle for Money, He Says.

Dr. J. R. Hopkins, father of the young millionaire, Russell Hopkins, who is being sued by his wife's grandmother charging fraud and deceit to obtain funds, believes that there is nothing in the charges and that Russell will come out all right.

"Too many lawyers with a finger in the pie," is his explanation of Mrs. Lawrence's suit to obtain over a quarter of a million dollars from young Hopkins. "She has just been played on by lawyers, who have trumped up the suit.

"Russell and his wife are both all right, they are jim-dandies. He may be a high roller, but that's his business, and nobody ever said anything crooked about him. He don't have to wheedle money out of his wife's people so long as I've got a cent, and I'm not broke yet by a long sight."

If the friction in the Hopkins family continues, it is more than probable that the Hopkins baby, famous as the "million-dollar baby," will come to Atlanta to live, and be numbered among our most conspicuous citizens. Dr. Hopkins says he will provide for his namesake if this happens.

WATER COMPANIES FORM COMBINATION

The three mineral water companies in Atlanta have combined, and hereafter their product will be sold from one instead of three wagons. It was announced on Thursday that the Benscot company and the Bowden company had been taken over by the Atlanta Mineral Water Supply Company, which will also sell Tate Springs water. Hereafter there will be no mineral water competition in this city.

More than 1,000 gallons of lithia water are drunk in Atlanta every day during the warm months, but in spite of that fact and the fact that the combination has been effected, the price will remain at 15 cents a gallon. This affects the public little, however, for while the soda fountain companies get it for 15 cents they sell it for something like $1.50 a gallon. It is only the man who buys in large quantities who is benefited.

Guy Holcomb, who managed the Bowden company, will be in charge of the new company, and the distribution will go on as before.

BLACK GUILTY OF WRECKING FLYER

Floyd Jones, Convicted in Bibb Superior Court, Gets Life Imprisonment.

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Floyd Jones, the negro charged with wrecking the Dixie Flyer recently in the Macon yards, resulting in the injury of three persons, was convicted in the superior court today and sentenced to life imprisonment. His attorney announced that he would file an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

It is cited in this motion that Mrs. Sallie Bryant, who lives on Roff avenue, will swear that on the night of the wreck two boys ran into her house with hatchets in their hands, and their actions subsequently indicated to her that they had broken the lock of the switch. Since that time she says both of the boys have disappeared, one of them running away with her young daughter.

LEP MEYER WILL NOT APPEAL SENTENCE OF TWENTY YEARS

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—No appeal will be taken by Lep Meyer, convicted of voluntary manslaughter for the killing of Mary Moore. A conference was held today between members of the Meyer family and counsel representing the prisoner, and it was decided that Meyer should go ahead and serve out his twenty-year term.

Meyer declares that he will take his medicine like a man.

DATE SET FOR HEARING IN M'NAUGHTON CASE

Waycross, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Colonel John W. Bennett, one of the attorneys in the celebrated McNaughton case, has received notice that the supreme court will hear the arguments on the motion for new trial made recently at Swainsboro on June 17. Dr. McNaughton is charged with killing Fred Flanders and was under death sentence when an extraordinary motion for new trial was filed. Upon this being overruled, the attorneys appealed same to the supreme court.

Commerce Court Attacked.

Washington, May 23.—The abolition of the commerce court was urged in a petition from the Arizona legislature, presented to the senate today. The petition asserts the court is "used by the railroads to block the work of the interstate commerce commission."

NO FINE IMPOSED ON W. S. WITHAM, JR.

No Charges Have Been Preferred Against Patrolman Welchel.

Loss of Temper on Either Side Is Held Responsible for the Arrest of Son of Well-Known Banker—The Negro Chauffeur Arrested.

"I was not treated like a gentleman."—W. Stuart Witham, Jr., wealthy young autoist.

"I did my duty as I saw it. He looked just like any other prisoner to me."—Policeman L. T. Welchel.

The first clash of the police and autoists for violating the "muffler cut-off" ordinance was caused by two men losing their tempers at a critical time, according to testimony brought out in the trial of W. Stuart Witham, Jr., son of W. S. Witham, wealthy capitalist and president of a string of banks, who was arrested in front of the Aragon hotel, on Peachtree street, for alleged violation of the law, Wednesday afternoon. Witham was freed of the charge of interfering with Policeman Welchel, but his negro chauffeur, John Alexander, 19 years, will have to answer two charges for running with muffler open.

"I have not decided what the next step will be in the matter," Witham's father said yesterday afternoon, when asked if he would ask Chief J. L. Beavers to suspend Welchel. "I have employed an attorney, and will act on his advice."

Just as he was leaving police headquarters, after the Witham case, Police Commissioner Carlos Mason said that the board had not been asked to suspend Welchel. Commissioner Mason did not discuss the arrest. He said he believed that the officer acted within the law up to a certain point.

Both Lost Tempers.

"I am sure that both men lost their tempers at a critical time," he said. "The police work at a disadvantage, and the citizens of the city should assist them in every way possible. I have given my chauffeur to understand that the speed limit is fifteen miles an hour, and if he is arrested for exceeding it he will get no aid or sympathy from me."

James A. Branch, of the law firm of Moore & Branch, appeared as attorney for Witham. He was accompanied by W. S. Witham, father of the accused. A number of persons who were in the neighborhood of Houston and Pryor streets at the time of the arrest were present as witnesses.

Policeman Welchel was the only witness against Witham. He said that he was attracted by the chug of the motor of the Witham car as it approached from the south. He admitted that he was not an auto expert, but he knew enough to satisfy him that the muffler was open.

"I called the negro driver to stop, and he drew up alongside the curb in front of the Aragon hotel," the policeman testified. "I said to him: 'Son, you are violating the law by running with your muffler open. I'll have to give you a copy to appear in court.'

"Witham leaned over and told me that I could not make a charge against the boy, and I informed him that I was an officer and knew what my duty was. I also informed him that I would either have to serve the negro boy with a copy or take him to the station.

"He declared that I could not take him to jail because no law had been violated, and I informed him that I could take him to jail for interference."

Policeman Welchel said that Witham defied him, and then started out of the machine. Welchel said that he walked around to meet Witham, but Witham broke and ran into the Aragon hotel.

"I did not know what he was going into the hotel for. He was excited and I had no assurance that he was not going after a gun. I carried him down to the box and called up for the wagon, and on the way he said: 'You don't know who I am, do you? Well, I am Banker Witham's son.' I told him that it made no difference to me who he was; that he had violated a law and was going to jail for it. He looked like any other prisoner to me."

Witham said that the noise the officer heard was a chug of the engine, caused by a steep climb up the hill. He denied that his muffler was open. He admitted that the car makes a loud noise, even with the muffler closed. He declared that Policeman Welchel was abrupt and did not treat him as a gentleman.

Wouldn't Listen to Reason.

"The statement that I defied the officer because I was Witham's son is absurd," he said.

Witham testified that after he realized that he could not persuade the policeman to release the negro he walked into the Aragon hotel to telephone to his father. When he reached the booth he found that he had no change in his pocket and was walking over to the cigar stand to get some, when he was arrested.

"The officer was not rough with me," he admitted. "The only thing was that he would not listen to reason. He insisted on taking me to the station, despite the protests of my friends, who offered bond or collateral."

Others corroborated the story of Witham. L. Hanley and G. F. Hanley, who were with Witham in the car, said that the muffler was not open. E. R. Black testified that the officer would not accept a bond or collateral, and would not release Witham on a copy. Charles Elyea said that Welchel was rough and threatened to put him in jail if he did not get away from the box. W. D. Owens testified that he offered to stand responsible for Witham and put up a bond for him. He also offered to get a cab to take him to the station.

Recorder Broyles said that he believed Policeman Welchel acted properly up to a certain point. He said that he did not think Witham was guilty of interference, in view of the fact that he was the owner of the automobile.

The case was dismissed.

NO CONFERENCE ON CONVENTION

That Political Imagination Is At Work Again.

Two or Three Well-Known Georgians Come to Town and "Sherlocko" Proceeds to Figure It All Out—But He Was Wide of the Mark.

That prolific and fertile imagination of the "Wilson press" is again at work.

Two or three well-known Georgians come to town on business; they visit The Constitution office, as is sometimes their custom. "Sherlocko" is on the job, puts two and three together and tries to make a regiment out of it.

To elucidate this persiflage:

Hon. Randolph Anderson, of Savannah; Pat Gambrell, of The Macon Telegraph, and Hon. Thomas B. Felder, of Atlanta, happened to call at The Constitution office at various times Thursday morning.

Seizing upon this act, The Atlanta Journal loudly proclaims that "Leaders gather to hold secret caucus over T. E. Watson."

There Was No Caucus.

Now for the facts:

There has been no caucus whatever held in Atlanta by anybody about anything in connection with next Wednesday's convention.

Mr. Anderson visited Mr. Howell's office, as he always does when he comes to Atlanta. His visit was purely a personal one, and had no connection whatever with the visit of anyone else.

Pat Gambrell, of The Macon Telegraph, came to close a contract with the Southern Engraving Company for The Telegraph, and saw Manager Henry W. Grady on the subject.

Mr. Anderson and Mr. Gambrell did not even meet while they were in the building, unless it happened when one was coming in and the other going out.

Mr. Felder happened to come to The Constitution office about the same time to urge that The Constitution advocate the importance of building an electric trolley line out the Howell's Mill road.

All There Is to It.

That is all there is to it—except, of course, the dream.

If Manager G. R. Hutchens, of the Underwood campaign, was in town, and he no doubt was, for the purpose of making some detailed arrangements in connection with the convention, he never saw anyone of the other parties, at least not while they were at The Constitution office.

There has been no conference of any kind, anywhere, with reference to Wednesday's convention, nor will there be.

Dreamers may continue to dream, and soothsayers to sooth, but they will find they are chasing a forlorn hope, if they expect to disturb the harmony of the gathering of Georgia democrats to be held at the Grand next Wednesday at noon.

MANUFACTURERS MAY FORM ORGANIZATION

An organization of Atlanta manufacturers, a club or association for mutual pleasure and improvement, was broached by Brooks Morgan last night at the manufacturers' dinner given at the Capital City Club. The suggestion met with instant approval.

"Every other class of people in the city are associated together except us," he said. "There are organizations of merchants, of advertising men, of automobile dealers, but the manufacturers have neglected to get together, although there are many of us, and we are engaged in some of the most important industries of the city.

"I have been thinking of this for some time, and as soon as possible I want all of us to get together, to secure rooms in the new chamber of commerce building, and to have meetings for improvement and pleasure."

After winning recognition for her musical talent in many other cities, Miss Sadie Coleman, formerly an Atlanta girl, is at the Montgomery theater this week, where she has made many new friends by her charming love songs and ballads.

Miss Coleman received her musical training in Chicago, and is on the stage now preparatory to a year in Boston to complete her musical education. She will go to Boston in October. After that she has been told that she may expect substantial success, and has received much encouragement from her various teachers.

Her voice is a lyric soprano of good quality and which is wonderfully expressive. It makes a direct personal appeal to her audience in the excellent repertoire which she has selected, and her many friends here are congratulating her on the bright outlook for the future.

Whose pleasing soprano is making her many friends.

CHURCH SCHOOL TO HOLD ITS EXERCISES

The commencement exercises of the North Avenue Presbyterian church day school, Peachtree street and North avenue, will be held this morning from 10 to 12 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited to be present.

During the past year the school has done a great work among the boys and girls of its congregation. The attendance has reached 130, and eight teachers are employed. Plans are being made to enlarge the scope of work next session.

WHY DON'T YOU CASH YOUR INTEREST CHECKS?

Washington, May 23.—The inexplicable fact that many holders of United States bonds failed to present their interest checks for payment within reasonable time caused Secretary MacVeagh today to place a limit upon the time in which these drafts can be cashed without encountering delay.

Beginning June 30 all bond interest checks which have been outstanding for three fiscal years will be carried by the treasury as an outstanding liability of the government. This course will be followed in the future at the close of each fiscal year. The payees of such checks will find it necessary to procure new checks and establish their right to the money.

Many persons, without explanation, it is said, refuse to respond to repeated appeals of the treasury that they cash interest checks and permit the government to close the accounts. The instance is cited of one man who holds an accumulated number of checks spreading over years amounting to between $60,000 and $70,000. The secretary's action is expected to avoid the prevalent danger of old checks being fraudulently cashed.

SHE PAYS $10,000,000 FOR SECOND HUSBAND

Boston, May 23.—Mrs. Marie Garland has decided to sacrifice the income on $10,000,000, which came to her through the will of her husband, in order that she may wed next Saturday Frank Cushing Green. Upon her marriage the income of the estate will go to her three sons. When the trust expires the fortune will be turned over to Harvard college to aid struggling students.

"GOLD" BRICK SWINDLERS NOW USING "GOLD" DUST

New York, May 23.—Gold bricks have been displaced as instruments for the swindlers' activity by "gold" dust, made cheaply and easily from copper and brass filings, according to the testimony on which the Brooklyn police are holding Joseph Herzberg.

A large leather bag which was given to the police by Charles Kerblower, a Long Island farmer, contains the alleged dust. Kerblower says that it costs him $1.35 a pound. According to the police, Herzberg told him that a friend was anxious to sell cheaply some gold dust which he had acquired in Malden Lane. The preliminaries were arranged, the dust was exhibited and Kerblower had a handful analyzed. It was real gold dust. He placed his seal on the bag, so that the contents could not be tampered with and several days later paid $5,670 for the bag.

HARDWARE MEN HERE NEXT YEAR

J. T. Rose, of the Atlanta Steel Company, announced last night at the manufacturers' dinner at the chamber of commerce, that the Georgia Retail Hardware Men's Association comes to Atlanta in 1913 for their annual session, and that the meeting had been pulled to this place by the promise to show them what Atlanta was doing in the manufacturing line.

"Other towns wanted the convention but when we told them that Atlanta would be open to them, that all our mills and shops and plants were free for inspection, and we promised that they should see our resources in this line—why, right then we got them our way," said Mr. Rose.

The association is a very strong one and will bring to the city more than 200 alert merchants.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

Mrs. Charles M.—Be careful of your diet. Nothing is so conducive to a muddy skin as rich, over seasoned foods. Drink plenty of water and massage the face with the preparation recommended below.

Miss T. F.—For the long standing cases of dark brown freckles, I recommend a regular nightly massage with a combined face bleach and skin food. The name of a good preparation is Wilson's Freckle Cream, which you may obtain at any good drug store for 50c the jar or direct from the Wilson Freckle Cream Co., Charleston, S. C. This is remarkably effective, guaranteed and I use it regularly with the most satisfactory results.

Flour, Chemistry, and Her Ladyship

The average Housekeeper may not be a chemistry specialist, but it's a million molecules to a mince pie that she can tell you when she gets hold of a good flour.

She may miss it on the proportion of the carbohydrates to the albuminoids. She may not know the cuticle from the kernel. The art of milling may be an utter mystery to her; but—

You just let her see some other woman serve lighter, whiter, flakier biscuit or rolls than she herself can make, and there's going to be some Flour Talk pretty soon.

In most every case, the successful cook will tell you she uses K K K Flour.

K K K wins with the women every time because it's made that way. It rises up light, white and flaky. It bakes to perfection. It minimizes the chance for failures.

Try it, Your Ladyship!

MASON-BARGE.

Brunswick, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Ethel Mason and Mr. Richmond Irvin Barge, of Atlanta, was solemnzed last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mason, on Union street, and was a beautiful and brilliant event. The entire lower floor was artistically decorated for the occasion. Quantities of smilax and ropes of tulle were gracefully festooned from mantels to chandeliers and in the parlor a beautiful canopy of tulle overhung the improvised altar in front of the mantel where the ceremony was performed. Tall white tulle-wreathed holders at either side held snowy Easter lilies and these were used in profusion throughout the house. On the mantel a row of candles shed a soft light and the pink-shaded lights added to the charming effect.

Miss Helen O'Connor played the wedding march and during its rendition the bridal party came down the stairway. Little Misses Ruth Thomas and Mary Barge held the ribbons that formed an aisle down which the wedding party passed. The bridesmaids, Misses Anne Dean Atkinson, Mary Harrison, Ruth Akin and Irene King, entered first wearing beautiful lingerie gowns and carrying baskets of sweet-peas and pink roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. J. H. Parker, followed, looking lovely in a handsome white satin gown and carrying Easter lilies.

The bride entered with her father and a vision of radiant beauty in her exquisite gown of charmeuse satin trimmed with real lace. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridal party was met at the altar by groom and his best man, Mr. Otis Barge. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. R. E. Boykin, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, this city. A large and brilliant reception followed the ceremony. The bride and groom left during the reception for an extended wedding journey, after which they will reside in Atlanta. Mason, of Tifton; Miss Elise Cubbege and Miss Irene King, of Savannah; Mrs. Lucy Barge, Mrs. Jones, Miss Mary Barge and Mr. Otis Barge, Mr. Robert Spiers, Mr. Clifford Ragsdale and Mr. Dupree, of Atlanta.

It Always Helps

Says Mrs. Woods

"I want to tell you what your wonderful medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, day and night, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework.

I had only taken 3 bottles of Cardui, when I began to feel like a new woman, and started to picking up in weight. Within a few months I gained 35 pounds, and now, I not only do all of my housework and washing, but, most of the time, run a big water mill while my husband runs the farm.

I wish every suffering woman would give Cardui a trial, for I am sure it would help them as it has me. I still use it when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

You don't have to be seriously afflicted with womanly trouble to receive benefit from the use of Cardui, for in its past 50 years of wonderful success, it has also been found, by thousands of women, to be an excellent tonic for tired, nervous, worn-out women.

We urge you to give Cardui a trial.

TO BALTIMORE AD MEN WILL GO

Maryland City Wins Over Toronto—Ad Men Off on a Swing Around Texas.

By Joe Curtis.

Dallas, Texas, May 23.—(Special.)—Atlanta had the distinction of being "always ahead" once more, when the official moving pictures of the convention were made at the conclusion of the final business session. The delegates took their positions in the line according to the alphabetic order, and consequently the Atlanta ad men were called to head the line. The last entertainment feature of the Dallas program was one of the most elaborate of the week, and consisted of a dinner of barbecued cattaloa, a cross between a cow and a buffalo.

A majority of the delegation will leave on car No. 1, train No. 1, tomorrow morning for the trip around the state. Ten trains of solid Pullmans will haul the ad men, and they will spend a day each at four cities—Waco, San Antonio, Galveston and Houston. The special train will return to Dallas Tuesday morning, and the Atlanta delegation will leave that morning, arriving home Thursday afternoon.

When the nominations for the next convention city opened, San Francisco formally withdrew from the race, leaving the contest between Toronto and Baltimore, and the latter city won.

G. W. Coleman, of Boston, was re-elected president of the association at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Fred E. Johnston, of Dallas, was elected first vice president by a unanimous vote. Johnston succeeds T. W. Lequatte, of Des Moines.

P. S. Florea, of Indianapolis, was re-elected secretary.

C. D. Makeel, of Minneapolis, was re-elected treasurer. The other officers are appointive.

San Francisco was awarded the prize for bringing the largest number of delegates the longest distance.

The Printers' ink cup for the club doing the most constructive work during the year was today awarded to the New York Advertising Men's League.

Boswell, N. M., carried off the bronze trophy for the advertising club bringing the greatest proportionate number of women to the convention. The Roswell men came all the way to Dallas in automobiles, bringing eleven ladies, which number is about 30 per cent of the club's total membership.

Several southern cities brought "better half" delegates, including Atlanta and Oklahoma City, with eleven each; Birmingham, six; Montgomery, five, and Baltimore, four. Toronto and Waterloo, Iowa, brought the largest number of ladies, each club having fifteen in the party.

EARLY ADJOURNMENT PLANNED BY SENATE

Washington, May 23.—Informal conferences among republican and democratic senators today made an adjournment of congress before the national party conventions in June at least a possibility. Plans tentatively were agreed upon to have the senate meet at 11 o'clock in the morning beginning next Monday, and to hold night sessions, if necessary, to dispose of the congestion of business.

Senator Smoot, of Utah, one of the republican leaders, favored meeting at 10 o'clock. Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, said that a vote on the metal bill was certain before the end of next week.

Brotherhood of Engineers.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 23.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers devoted today to the discussion of matters pertaining to the insurance department of the order. All convention business, including the election of fourth assistant grand chief engineer, was deferred until Monday.

WILSON QUOTES BIBLE AT THE PRESBYTERIANS

Washington May 23.—Quoting the scripture, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, commented today on the action yesterday of the Presbyterian general assembly in striking his name from the list of delegates to the pan-Presbyterian council to be held in Aberdeen, Scotland, because he accepted last summer a vice presidency of the Brewers' Congress at Chicago.

"'And when the sons of men came together before the Lord, Satan came also,'" he said. "This passage seems to apply to this case, for I have learned from very dependable sources on the inside that there has been a whole lot of politics behind the attack on me from certain quarters, because I, as secretary of agriculture, attended a brewers' conference. It will all die out as soon as the next election is over."

The secretary expressed the opinion that Job, the much afflicted, would have made a fine secretary of agriculture. Job, he said, knew a lot about farming and mules and horses.

CATARACT OPERATION ON "GENERAL" BOOTH

London, May 23.—"General" Booth, of the Salvation Army, was operated on today for cataract by Dr. Charles Higgens. Dr. Higgens issued the following bulletin:

"The operation on General Booth was completely successful and the ultimate restoration of his eyesight depends only on the recuperative powers of the general himself."

National Bureau of Police.

San Francisco, May 23.—Plans for a national bureau of police, which would act as a clearing house for information as to the movements of criminals, were evolved today by Chief of Police D. A. White, who has just returned from a visit to the police departments of several large cities. Chief White said his plans had been indorsed by the police heads of Washington, New York and Chicago.

PINNED UNDER TAXICAB BOY BEGS FOR DRIVER

New York, May 23.—While Joseph Burns, a school boy, lay pinned beneath a taxicab which had knocked him off his bike last night, he pleaded with the crowd not to harm the chauffeur. "It was my fault," said the injured boy. "Don't touch him. I was on the wrong side of the street and he could not help it."

After a policeman and several bystanders had lifted the rear wheels of the taxicab from the boy's body young Burns was rushed to a hospital. The doctors found he was suffering from internal injuries, a fractured skull and a mangled leg. His condition is serious.

WOMEN ARE NOT BOUND TO LIFT THEIR SKIRTS

Boston, May 23.—The supreme court of Massachusetts has decided that women are not bound to lift their skirts in alighting from street cars. Moreover, they have a right to wear skirts as long as they choose.

Miss Miranda Martin was getting off a car some time ago when her skirt caught on a sand plunger which projected from the front platform. She was thrown to the street and sued the company. The company alleged that the woman had been negligent in failing to lift her long skirts high enough to clear the plunger.

In affirming a judgment for $1,000 the supreme court holds that the company's objection is untenable.

Whiffs

Could Strengthen.

CHARLEY HEMPHILL would not have to purchase any player to strengthen the Crackers or increase their effectiveness. The men now on the pay roll of the club could, if shifted around a bit, strengthen the offensive and defensive strength of the club. By putting Sykes back in the game at first and switching O'Dell to third and Alperman to short the local manager would uncork a combination that would prove twice as effective as the one now in use. The four days that it was tried it proved a winner. As a proof of that statement, the combination did not make an error in the four games, and between them they handed sixty-odd chances. Just a friendly hint. That's all.

Was Sure Game.

VEDDER SITTON is one of the gamest baseball players that ever stepped on a baseball field. He proved this Thursday by pitching against the Gulls. Vedder limped into the box with a lame ankle, which was spiked in the game in Birmingham. The ankle bothered him throughout the game, yet he never quit under fire. He played his best all the way through, and he only faltered toward the end when the pain grew too excruciating. Under such conditions, Sitton should be credited with two wins instead of one.

Looks True.

THE TIP of Mike Kahoe that if the Crackers purchased Pat Donahue they would buy a receiver in grand shape and able to show a classy article of receiving is panning out. Pat has caught two games for the Crackers and he has worked beautifully behind the plate in both. Incidentally, he chimed in with a couple of extra base drives Thursday that will make pitchers fear him in the future. It looks like the Crackers have again got a good, representative catching staff.

Frank Starts.

THE FANS around the circuit have been laughing at Charlie Frank and his Pelicans. But they do not know the wise Charles. Tired of being kicked around like the political "houn' dawg," Frank has started strengthening his club. Two new outfielders and two new pitchers have been purchased. Keep your eye on the Birds from now out. In an interview given out before the Pelicans left New Orleans the otherday, Frank said: "We're not too far away from the leaders to overhaul them in three weeks. We'll be there with the belle on before the finish. New Orleans will cop the pennant if money can buy the players to win it." And you can bank on it that Frank meant every word that he said.

May Use Same Park.

THE YANKEES and the Giants may be housed under the same roof at the start of the season of 1913. It is said that the lease on the present Highlanders' park expires at the close of the present season and that the owners do not want to lease it for baseball park purposes again next season. John T. Brush has practically agreed to allow the Highlanders to use his park when the Giants are not at home and it would not be surprising if there was not continuous baseball at the Polo Grounds in 1913.

"Doc" With Turtles.

DR. SEABOUGH, the veteran receiver, may not pass out of the Southern League after all. He is to get a tryout with the Memphis Turtles. Bill Bernhard is not satisfied with the work of McDonough, whom he secured from Chattanooga via the waiver route, and may put the veteran backstop in the game in his place.

Americus, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The Americus champs laid it on to Cordele heavily this afternoon in the first game of the series here, defeating the Crisp county aggregation by the score of 10 to 6. Robinson and Hooks constituted the invincible battery for Americus, while Cordele's brag twirler, Baker, pitched for that team and did really excellent work. The great rivalry between the Americus and Cordele aggregations renders the game of considerable interest. Americus has taken two of the three games played this week and will go after tomorrow's game likewise.

Despite Injured Ankle Sitton Hurls Splendidly; Crackers Bat in Victory

Vedder Sitton was in grand shape Thursday. Answer: The Crackers pinned it on the Gulls again, this time by an 8 to 3 count.

This was the first time that Sitton has worked since the Birmingham series. In the game over there he was spiked by Bob Messenger when the fleet-footed Baron slid into first base, and has been hors-du-combat ever since.

It was pitiful to see Vedder attempt to run with the injured ankle. And it began to tell on him toward the close of the game, when he weakened perceptibly, wincing from the pain of the injured member, which had stood the strain as long as possible.

Under the conditions Sitton hurled a remarkable game. For five innings the Gulls were unable to get a hit off of his delivery, and the ones they got in the sixth and seventh innings were mere scratches. The same for the one in the ninth. Only one clean hit was recorded off of his delivery, that a three-base smash to the right field bank by Maloney in the eighth. Maloney and Paulet were the only men who could touch his delivery. Both of the latter's were scratches.

Crackers Hit Hard.

The Crackers had on their batting clothes and the way they pounded the human beanstalk, Mr. Cavet, was a sin and a shame. Thirteen bingles for nineteen bases were their total hits. Alperman led the attack with three hits and O'Dell, Donahue and Sitton corralled two each.

Visiting magnates will learn after a while not to send southpaw twirlers against the Crackers. Aitchison, of the Billikens, is the only one that has been able to pin anything on them to date.

For three innings neither side was able to score. In the fourth the Crackers counted one. Alperman led off with a screamer to deep center which Maloney kept to a single. O'Dell sacrificed him to second, He advanced to third on East's out and counted when O'Brien smashed out a double to center.

In the fifth Sitton got a free ticket. Bailey slapped one in front of the plate, and when Dunn threw too late to second both hands were safe. Ganley beat out a bunt, filling the bases. Hemphill smashed a beauty on a line, but Walsh leaped into the air and speared it, doubling Sitton off of third. Alperman connected for a single and Ganley counted, Ganley taking third. Whitey then used his head and drew a throw from Dunn and Ganley got home before he was retired.

In the sixth O'Dell singled and stole second. Donahue counted him with a double to left field.

Three in Seventh.

In the seventh Bailey was walked, but was forced at second by Ganley, Ganley then stole second. Hemphill flew out, but Alperman doubled and Ganley counted. O'Dell singled and Alperman counted, O'Dell taking second on Walsh's boot. East smashed a single to right on which O'Dell counted.

In the eighth the Gulls got one on a base on balls to Dunn and Maloney's triple to the right field bank.

In their half the Crackers got their eighth and last run. Donahue smashed a triple to the score board and counted when Sitton smashed a double to the right field bank. Had he not been injured he could have made the circuit, as he just walked from the plate to second.

In the ninth Paulet beat out a hit to Sitton, and when the hurler threw wild to first he went to second. Then Sitton walked three men in succession and Paulet counted. Campbell, hitting for Cavet, hit to third and Alperman forced Dunn at second, Gardella counting on the play.

Kavanaugh Will Transfer Volunteers to Little Rock; Receivership Is Dissolved

Little Rock, Ark., May 23.—"Unless I hear from the officials of the Nashville club by noon tomorrow I will exercise the authority given me by the Southern League constitution and transfer the Southern League games scheduled for Nashville to Little Rock or some other city," said President Kavanaugh tonight.

The president said he had no information other than the Associated Press dispatch stating that the Tennessee court of civil appeals had decided that the injunction restraining the Nashville club from playing in Tennessee should stand until the case should be heard on its merits.

President Kavanaugh remained at his office until midnight endeavoring to communicate with President Hirsig, of the Nashville club, by both telephone and telegraph, but was unsuccessful.

Must Find Place.

"I don't want to do the Nashville club an injustice," said Mr. Kavanaugh, "but if the Nashville Club can't play ball at home we must find some place where it can play. Transferring the games to Little Rock seems the only solution just now, but it may be that President Hirsig will have some better suggestion."

The old Southern League park here is rapidly being put in condition, and can be made ready by Monday, if necessary. The present Nashville-Montgomery series was scheduled to have been played in Nashville, but was transferred to Montgomery. The next series, with New Orleans as the opposing team, is scheduled to begin in Nashville next Monday.

Receivership Dissolved.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 23.—The injunction inhibiting the Nashville Baseball Club from playing ball in Tennessee stands until it is heard upon its merits, but the order of the chancellor placing the Nashville baseball corporation in the hands of a receiver is dissolved.

This is the decision of the Tennessee court of civil appeals, announced today, before which the case was taken last week on a petition for a writ of supersedeas. The decision is that of a majority of the court, as delivered by Judge X. Y. Hughes and concurred in by Judges Hall, Cate and Wilson.

A dissenting opinion by Judge Higgins holds that the injunction should be effective only to the extent of inhibiting playing baseball on Sunday, and that the club should be permitted to continue its games in the state through the week days.

The court holds that the grounds upon which a receivership was sought were not sufficient, and that such appointment was not properly made in advance of the hearing of the case on its merits.

The court takes the view that it has no jurisdiction in the matter of passing upon the injunction writ previous to its hearing on its merits in the lower court, but it concedes its jurisdiction in the matter of the receivership and orders same dismissed.

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—Wortman's hitting gave Savannah the opener of the series with Albany here today, by 3 to 1. The clever little shortstop drove in all three of the home team's tallies. Abercrombie did not walk a man, and he yielded but two hits, one of which was a scratch in the ninth inning, after two were out. A base on balls, sacrifice hit, four smashing singles and an error gave the locals five scores in the first inning. O'Brien, who relieved Applegate, pitched superb ball except in the sixth, when a base on balls and three safe drives netted the locals three more scores.

While the latter was being put out, Speaker made for third, which was uncovered, and scored the winning run when Hohnhorst threw there.

Joe Stanley goes to the New Orleans Southern League team in trade for Outfielder Meloan, who made his first appearance with Louisville in center field this afternoon.

"Smiling Al" Demaree Will Work on Saturday Against Brady, Crackers' New Hurler

Atlanta fans are in for a treat Saturday afternoon at Ponce de Leon in the final game of the Mobile series.

Al Demaree, the season's pitching sensation, the man who has won eight straight games in such brilliant fashion, will twirl for the Gulls.

Al wants to make it nine straight, and the Crackers are equally determined to sully his brilliant and unequaled mark.

Just who Hemphill will pit against "Smiling Al" he will not say, but if he arrives in time, Brady, the new twirler from the Boston Doves, will draw this tough assignment.

LADIES' DAY TODAY

BAN JOHNSON'S FACE READ BY DETROIT DETECTIVE

Frank Wilkinson, of the Central Detective Agency of Detroit, when shown a photograph of Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, described the chief executive in the following brief, concise and probably accurate terms:

The photograph shows the subject to be sensitive.

The eyes and straight brows indicate a cold disposition.

Head formation indicates brain power.

The full, straight back of the head indicates pugnacity and bullheadedness.

The subject likes his own way. He finds it hard to yield.

The high crown of his head indicates great self-esteem.

Set lips prove his determined will.

He is not a man who would deeply love family life.

He is Napoleonic in character, cunning and when unable to have his way would be able to show considerable diplomacy.

PERRY MEETS JACK ROBINSON

Jack Robinson is himself once more. The clever welter, in his sparring bouts with his partners, during the past three or four days, has shown a new blow which is calculated to make the best sit up and take notice. It is on the order of the old solar plexus, and just good enough to make a boxer stand around for seven or eight rounds taking his share of punishment to get in this one select punch. And Robinson has enough faith in it to believe that it will produce the desired result once it lands.

Jimmy Perry, who faces Robinson at the Gate City Club Tuesday evening, has never seen Robinson in a real scrap, and is a bit puzzled over the talk of the great condition of his opponent. He realizes that he is to meet a good man, and not knowing his style, is getting in all the work possible so as not to be given a surprise party when the two get in the ring. Both are boxing from ten to fifteen rounds each day, and in this way have reached the heigth of condition.

There is a good semi-windup, one preliminary and a battle royal. Eddie Hanlon and Young Kid Seymour are to be used in the semi-windup, with Spider Britt and Johnnie Herndon hitting each other in the preliminary.

The Warm Springs, Meriwether County, opened Saturday, May 15th. The roads are good now.

Hal Chase May Soon Be Traded To the Red Sox

New York, May 23.—A dispatch from Boston states that an important deal in baseball is under way, whereby First Baseman Chase, of the New York Americans, may be traded to the Boston Red Sox for Hugh Bradley and Olaf Henrikson. It was reported a few weeks ago that the New York club was trying to trade Chase for Tris Speaker, but the Boston club did not consider it.

McAleer Denies.

Boston, May 23.—"Nothing to it," said President James R. McAleer, of the Boston Americans, today, when shown the report that Boston was to receive First Baseman Chase in exchange for Bradley and Henriksen. "There is no deal under consideration," McAleer added.

The "Flying Squadron" of the Cosmopolitan Life Insurance Company was so christened with not one, but many bottles of the bubbly sort and fittingly launched upon a whirlwind business cruise by a banquet at the Piedmont hotel Wednesday night.

The Flying Squadron is the name which the Cosmopolitan company has chosen for a co-operative league of its agents which was organized this week for the purpose of carrying out a hustling campaign for business. The squadron is comprised of about fifteen of the livest wires on the Cosmopolitan force and they have gone out after the goods and say they won't come back without them. Last Wednesday night's banquet was for the purpose of drawing the members of the squadron in closer touch with one another and inaugurating the campaign.

While this was the primary object of the banquet, it was not confined to the interests of the Cosmopolitan company alone, but subjects of interest to insurance men at large were discussed and not a few members of other companies were on hand.

Besides fifty other insurance men of Atlanta, there were present at the banquet the following members of the Cosmopolitan company:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wilbur, C. H. Dickinson, C. D. Laundron, D. L. Crawley, Dan Pleasants, D. O. Ketchum, Julian Soloman, Frank Mark Smith, Claude Smith, Rev. George Taylor, T. D. Davis, T. N. Ladd, W. G. Whercat, Marvin H. Boone and Joel F. Armistead.

Frank A. Wilbur presided at the banquet.

ITS POWER GONE COMMITTEE QUITS

Southern Presbyterians in Hot Debate on Last Day.

Bristol, Tenn., May 23.—The dissolution of the fifty-second assembly of the Presbyterian church, in this city today, was marked by a parliamentary struggle to have the body reconsider its action in divesting the powerful systematic benificence committee of its power. This was precipitated by the simultaneous resignation of the majority of the members of this committee, which was presented this morning, but the acting moderator, Dr. R. C. Reed, of Columbia, S. C., disposed of the matter by holding that a resolution to reconsider was out of order because the matter had been previously adjudicated.

Shorn of Its Power.

Immediately after the committee was shorn of its power, Dr. W. R. Dobyns, of St. Joseph, Md., communicated with all members, including those present and at their homes in various states, and got authority to sign the names of nearly all of the members to the letter of resignation.

Moderator Thomas S. Clyce, of Sherman, Texas, left the chair to state his position as a member of the committee. He said that the assembly's action was subversive of one of the main purposes of the creation of this committee and that, regarding it as implied censure, the members would under no circumstances continue to serve. The chief complaint is because the assembly took from the committee the power to name executive secretaries and the members of the four executive committees, which have the entire management of the church's affairs. The members resigning were:

W. R. Dobyns, Missouri; Thomas S. Clyce, Texas; John Stites, Kentucky; J. S. Munce, Virginia; H. E. Revenel, South Carolina, and Oscar Newton, Jr., Mississippi.

The assembly adopted a motion by Dr. J. I. Vance to instruct the alternate committeemen to fill all vacancies caused by resignations.

No Fight on Catholics.

The refusal of the assembly to adopt the majority report of the committee on Romanism, urging an attack on the Catholic church and recommending the creation of a foundation to support converts from and its adoption of a resolution declaring that the only way the church would "meet the menace of Romanism was by faithfully and earnestly preaching the gospel and by the dissemination of literature," the selection of representatves to the Pan-Presbyterian assembly at Aberdeen, Scotland, next year and the refusal of the assembly to make a new judicial deliverance on the subject of whether the courts of the church can constitutionally indorse proposed legislative enactments were the principal happenings of the last day.

The delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian council follow:

Alabama, Dr. J. W. Waldron; Arkansas, Dr. M. M. McKay; Florida, Dr. J. C. Times; Georgia, Dr. I. S. McElroy; Kentucky, Dr. D. M. Sweets; Louisiana, Dr. George Summy; Mississippi, Dr. J. V. Hutton; North Carolina, W. J. Martin; Oklahoma, Dr. J. M. Clark; South Carolina, Hon. M. F. Ansel; Tennessee, Dr. J. L. Bachman; Texas, Dr. T. S. Clyce; Virginia, Judge C. T. Janney; at-large, Dr. T. W. Sloan, Greenville, S. C.; Dr. R. C. Reed, Columbia, S. C.; Thomas B. Gresham, Baltimore; S. L. Morris, Atlanta; Dr. W. N. Scott, Staunton, Va.; Dr. T. H. Rice, Richmond; R. H. Fleming, Baltimore; Henry A. White, Columbia, S. C.; J. N. Fell, F. R. Graves, Dr. F. S. Reed, Hon. J. H. Fry and J. H. Miller.

Delegates to Leave Bristol.

The several hundred delegates left the city this afternoon and tonight.

The assembly dissolved to be again constituted at Atlanta in May, 1913, where assemblies of other churches of the Presbyterian system will meet at the same time with a view to closer co-operation between the branches and the promotion of negotiations toward union.

7 PERSONS KILLED AND 150 WOUNDED

As Result of Political Rioting in Budapest Street

Budapest, May 23.—The socialist proclamation of a general strike as a protest against the election of Count Tisza as president of the lower house had its sequel in rioting today, which resulted in the killing of seven persons and wounding of about 150, some of them severely.

Only about a third of the workers obeyed the order to strike. To the number of 50,000, they marched through the city, attacking men at work, and, being frustrated in attempts to hold demonstrations outside the parliament buildings, resorted to reckless violence, pillaging and destroying property of all kinds.

Fighting Continued for Hours.

The rioters stopped all traffic, formed barricades of street cars, demolished hundreds of gas lamps, and came into constant collision with the police and troops. The fighting continued until a late hour.

A second proclamation was issued by the socialists tonight, however, calling on the strikers to stop rioting and resume work Friday.

A notable feature of the outbreak was the participation of a large number of school boys and apprentices armed with revolvers. The rioters displayed a most stubborn spirit, remaining behind their barricades until driven to shelter by the police. The parliament buildings, stock exchange, banks and railway stations now are occupied by soldiers, and additional troops have been summoned from neighboring towns.

Outbreak Entirely Political.

The origin of the outbreak was entirely political, due to the dissatisfaction of the socialists with the prospects for getting individual suffrage, which was rendered more remote by the election of Count Tisza, the bitterest opponent of the extension of the franchise.

In the lower house there was scenes of great disorder. Opposition members violently protested against the arbitrary action of the president, and demanded a suspension of the sitting—a demand which Count Tisza curtly refused. Previously Tisza has definitely announced his attitude when he said: "Even if fifty persons are shot down in this hall, I shall not suspend the sitting."

Finally the opposition moved for a secret sitting to discuss the riots, and the motion carried. Francis Kossuth, leader of the united opposition, then appealed to the government for consent to place electoral reform before the army bill so as to restore peace.

Not Like Hysterical Women.

Count Apponyi demanded that the sitting be closed, but the president refused, saying parliament could not behave like an hysterical old woman. After considerable angry discussion, the house adjourned.

Meanwhile a deputation of workmen waited on Premier Lukacs and offered to stop the rioting if the men were permitted to hold an open air mass meeting. The premier replied that he could only permit an indoor meeting. Thereupon Count Apponyi and others sent an appeal by telegraph to the emperor in favor of universal suffrage so that a revolution might be prevented. Late tonight the socialist union, apparently fearing further bloodshed, called off the strike, which was originally intended to last four days.

By dint of great exertions the police prevented the rioters from putting the city in darkness.

Bomb Is Thrown.

During the course of the evening many of the rioters withdrew to the outskirts of the city, where the destruction of property was continued. A bomb was thrown at the residence of Deputy Baron Vojnits, one of the walls being badly damaged.

All tram and underground railway traffic has been suspended. It is reported that several trains were held up in the suburbs and there are rumors of a possible railway strike.

The rioting is worse than anything known here since the revolution of 1848. Many of the wounded are expected to die.

CORNELL WINS; HARVARD NEXT

Boston, May 23.—Holding always the master stroke, the Cornell 'varsity crew, three lengths to the good at the finish, watched Harvard win second place from Princeton by 10 feet, in an interesting triangular contest this afternoon over a course of 1⅝ miles in Charles river basin.

Cornell completed her sweep of the basin half an hour later, when the freshmen crew came across the line a full length ahead of the Harvard 1915 crew.

The times of the 'varsity race were: Cornell, 9:26½; Harvard, 9.35; Princeton, 9:36.

The freshmen race times were: Cornell, 9:59; Harvard, 10:03.

From the time the 'varsity crews started until the three shells came rushing through the stiff, choppy seas at the finish, while 20,000 spectators cheered, the Ithacans always were in front. The Courtney stroke, which never lets a Cornell shell pause, gained continually over the short and hesitating sweep of Harvard and Princeton oarsmen.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT ON THE MARIST CAMPUS

The pupils of the Sacred Heart parochial school will treat their many friends on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock, to a novel open-air entertainment on the Marist campus, which will be beautifully illuminated with electric lights and hung with Japanese lanterns.

During the past few weeks the children have been under the careful training of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Major E. Schmidt and Mr. Joe Bean, and so readily have they responded to their efforts that a highly enjoyable evening may be anticipated by all who attend the exercises.

In addition to a May-pole dance, the girls will give a series of wand, harp and scarf drills, while the boys will demonstrate their skill on the buck and in pyramid formations, and also show their friends how a Chinese song is sung—a feature which is sure to afford much amusement. Vocal duets will be rendered by Dorothy Haverty and Marianne Gillespie, Thelma Bricker and Ed Putnam. Miss Sarah Caverly will give an exhibition of Spanish and gypsy dances. The instrumental music will be furnished by the Marist orchestra, augmented for the occasion by the addition of several young lady musicians.

To add to the evening's pleasure the ladies of the Sodality have consented to dispense cigars, candy, punch, ice cream and cake in special booths daintily decorated with the colors of the parochial school, Marist college and the Sodality.

An unusually large crowd is expected, as over 1,500 tickets have already been sold. Admission is only 10 cents.

EXAMPLES OF FRENCH ART WILL BE SHOWN TODAY

The second exhibition of the works of great artists is to be given this afternoon at the Montgomery theater, four performances only, 3, 4, 5 and 6 o'clock. French artists are to be shown.

Rev. W. W. Memminger will again be on hand to sketch the principal qualities of French art, and to give a short critical insight into each picture. Mr. Memminger's talks at the last exhibition proved the most delightful feature of the afternoon, and were very illuminating to those who saw the pictures.

The Art Association, under whose auspices the exhibitions are being given, is very gratified at the success which is being met. There were several hundred people at the English exhibition on last Friday, and the beautiful colored reproductions of the great canvases won admiration from all. It is expected that this afternoon will be a repetition of the success of the first exhibition.

His future relations to the people of the Tabernacle will be discussed next Sunday morning by Dr. Robert S. MacArthur, who has occupied the pulpit for the last two months since the departure of Dr. Broughton to take up his work in London. Dr. MacArthur, it is said, will go into detail regarding plans for the future, conditions on which he will continue the enormously heavy work of the institution, and the congregation is vitally interested in whatever action he may take.

When Dr. MacArthur assumed the pastorate of the Tabernacle it was understood that there were difficulties in his way which would take him away from it a great portion of each year. As president of the Baptist World Alliance he is concerned with affairs of world interest, which he cannot neglect, and the proposed college in St. Petersburg, which he secured permission to build from the czar, needs his close attention. It is hoped by every one that he can continue with the Tabernacle to consummate the great work commenced by Dr. Broughton, and a large audience will be present Sunday to hear his talk.

EVERY CONTEST WON BY BRUNSWICK CANTON

Brunswick, Ga., May 23.—(Special.) By capturing first prize at Gainesville yesterday at the meeting of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, the Brunswick Canton made a record of returning with first honors in every prize drill entered since the company was organized several years ago. Including the one participated in at Gainesville, the Brunswick Canton has captured three state contests and contested an Indianapolis last year at the international convention of the sovereign lodge, at which time the company was awarded the fourth prize. The company, which is one of the best drilled in the country, is commanded by Captain N. Newman, an old Georgia state troop officer.

The local Canton will probably compete again this year for the national honor at Winnipeg, Manitoba, where the sovereign lodge convenes during the coming fall.

BILL OF HEALTH FOR MACON CITY

Aftermath of Sickness Does Not Follow Large Gathering at the Reunion.

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—It appears that Macon is to escape the aftermath of sickness that usually follows on the heels of a gathering so large as the confederate reunion. So far there has been no increase in the amount of sickness and practically no contagious disease has developed at all. The board of health contributes this fact to the precautions taken and the thorough inspection and sanitary service maintained during and after the reunion.

The board of health has decided to ask the city council for two more sanitary inspectors who are to work directly under orders of the chairman of the board and in addition an assistant food inspector will be asked for. It is claimed that the milk inspection, which is the most important of all, requires the entire attention of the present food inspector and other food supplies are going uninspected.

The state veterinarian, Peter F. Bohnsen, will be notified of the existence of "pink eye" among the horses and mules of the city. It has developed that the board of health has no jurisdiction in this matter, though it has taken some precautions to stop the spread of the disease.

Alleged Quarantine Violation.

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The United States grand jury now sitting here is investigating an alleged case of cattle quarantine law violation against the Southern Railway Company, J. W. Sikes, the agent at Hawkinsville, having been summoned to appear and bring the books of his office with him. No details as to the alleged violation have been made public, though the alleged violation is said to have occurred in Georgia and Texas.

They will go from Macon to New York on their motorcycles and will make the trip in five days, the distance being 1,200 miles. They are making an effort to secure two or three other young men to make the trip with them.

SPECIAL MASTER'S DECISION CONFIRMED

Judge Newman, of the United States district court, yesterday issued an order confirming the report of Edgar Watkins, special master in the equity case of the Empire Trust Company, complainant, against the Etna Steel and Iron Works, defendants, located in north Georgia, in which the special master reported the sale of the steel and iron company property. The report showed that the property had been sold to Charles N. Welsh, Edward N. Welsh and Maria, executors of J. Lober Welsh, for the sum of $135,583.35, and that the purchasers had made the deposit required by the order of sale. Judge Newman's order directed the confirmation of the sale and directed the special master, Edgar Watkins, to distribute the $20,000 excess acquired in the sale in accordance with a previous decree of the court.

The meeting of the veterans of the service is to take place in the office of H. W. Forman, superintendent of train rules, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis library building, at 11 o'clock. TWO DIVORCED WOMEN FIGHT FOR PROPERTY

Two divorced women, former wives to brothers now dead, are fighting in the Fulton superior court for property worth $5,000, situated in Decatur near Agnes Scott college.

Mrs. Marion T. McClellan, who was divorced by the late John McClellan, and Mrs. Ida B. McClellan, the divorced wife of the late Walter McClellan, are the two women. Mrs. Marion McClellan claims that her sister-in-law by marriage and divorce, is squatting on land which is rightfully hers. Mrs. Ida McClellan says that the two McClellan brothers shuttled the property back and forth between them, and that the only deed properly recorded was the one which gave Walter McClellan the title. John's wife claims that the land was given her as alimony. In the meantime, Mrs. Ida McClellan is living on it.

HOBSON-HANLY DEBATE IS ATTRACTING INTEREST

The Hobson-Hanly debate at the Auditorium, Thursday night, May 30, is creating considerable interest throughout the city. The fact that this debate will come the next night after the state democratic convention means that quite a number of out-of-town delegates to this convention will remain over to hear this forensic battle between two of the great statesmen of today, representing the north and the south.

DR. J. B. ROBINS RETURNS FROM HIS OLD HOME

Dr. J. B. Robins, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, has just returned from a visit to Putnam county near Eatonton. It was in this section that Dr. Robins was born and raised, and his visit was the occasion of many pleasant reunions with old friends.

While there he preached at the Union Methodist chapel, the church which his father attended. Many went to hear him, drawn by old friendship as well as by a desire to hear Dr. Robins preach, his reputation as an able minister having gone back to his old home.

EDUCATION FOR FARMER

Dr. Glenn at Sixth District School Commencement.

Barnesville, Ga., May 23.—(Special.) Dr. G. R. Glenn, president of the North Georgia Agricultural college, at Dahlonega, made an exceptionally impressive and instructive address at the commencement exercises at the Sixth District Agricultural and Mechanical school today on the subject of agricultural education. He expressed surprise that the people had been so long coming to the realization of the importance of the subject, but he said everybody now was becoming aroused over the proper education of the man who tilled the land.

Dr. Glenn predicted that in fifty years Georgia would have 8,000,000 population and to feed this vast number of people one acre of our land would have to produce ten times as much as it does now. The information which would enable this to be done was being given in the agricultural schools, which he strongly commended to the patronage and support of the people. He said every county in time would have an agricultural school. He said the best brain development came through the hand rather than the eye or ear.

Dr. Glenn painted an attractive picture of rural life when this sort of education had brought the inevitable conditions resulting therefrom, the country home having the present day drudgery driven from it with modern conveniences and comforts. Dr. Glenn's address made a most favorable impression on the entire audience.

The graduating exercises occurred this evening with a splendid program by the senior class, composed of the following: C. W. Mobley and C. V. Smith and Misses Lola Leavell, Mabel Smith, Leona and Orlena Welch, these being the first graduates of the school. The diplomas were delivered by Judge J. J. Flynt, of Griffin, a member of the board of trustees.

CANDIDATES FOR SENATE FROM FOURTH DISTRICT

Folkston, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding published reports to the effect that there is a scarcity of senatorial candidates in this district, and that the district would probably be without a senator in the next legislature inasmuch as there was no candidate announced and that Charlton county, whose time it is to furnish the senator, did not seem to have any suitable timber that was willing to accept the place, there are three announced candidates. They are: Hon. A. G. Gowen, who has represented his county in the house and the district in the senate in the past; Hon. C. L. Cowart, an ex-representative from this county, and W. M. Olliff, an attorney of this place, mayor of the city of Folkston, and ex-solicitor of the county court of Charlton.

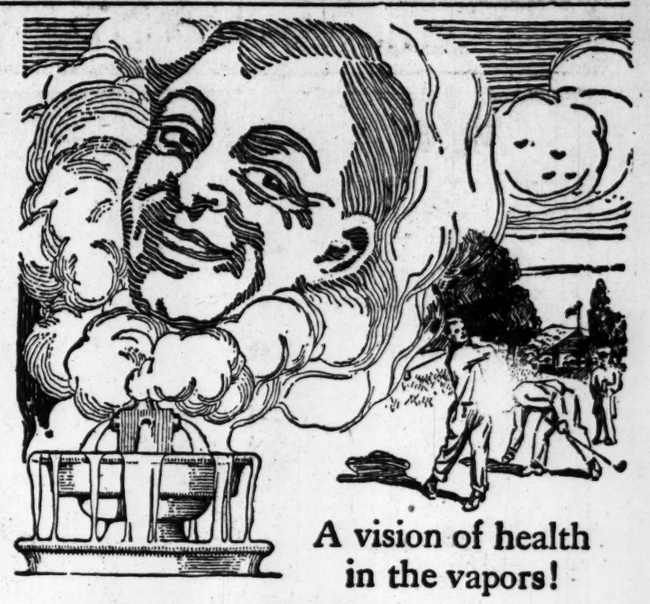

SERENADERS ARE HALED INTO COURT

Because some happy-hearted youths, made sentimental by a May evening, went out to serenade the girls at Agnes Scott, the embryo troubadours found themselves haled before a court of law, with the sweet alternative of handing out some ten dollar bills or going to jail.

The serenade began at about 9:30 o'clock. Just as the boys were getting into full melodious swing the town marshals appeared on the scene and tried to corral the "carollers." Some, however, were fortunate enough to get away.

"It's a shame," opined the girls, "that a sweet serenade should be so rudely interrupted," while many of Decatur's citizens feel the same way about the matter.

When the trial came on, with the mayor, the marshals, the faculty and some lawyers present, the town hall was crowded and jammed. But no amount of sympathy was able to save the boys from a fine, though the superior court may come to their relief if they decided to appeal the case. Those who were fined are Ed Roberts, James Pittman, Pittman Sutton, Curtis Thompson, Peele Anderson, Clayton Scofield, Joe W. Elder, George Ansley, Warren Hardeman and Tyre Jennings.

WALTER J. BUZBY

A LITTLE 6-YEAR-OLD DARLING IS RESCUED FROM ITS MISERIES

Little Willie Shumate, the little 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Shumate, of 168 Kirkwood avenue, this city, suffered like thousands of other little children are suffering. He was pale and puny; in his sleep he would roll and toss, in the morning his breath was bad, and during the day he was very nervous and constantly biting his finger nails or picking his nose. He was too young to take severe medicines and the parents were simply told not to worry, because the child would get over its [illegible] older.

But the parents did worry. They could not help it, seeing their child in such constant misery. They called at Coursey & Munn's Drug Store and obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract. The child was given this Remedy regularly according to directions and the results came to light. He took one bottle and a half of the Extract and expelled not one, but a handful of small worms, some alive and some dead. These were the cause of the child's sufferings and Quaker Extract by removing the cause, cured the child. These worms were 2 inches long each.

Today the little fellow is happy as a lark and his happiness is shared by its loving parents, his cheeks are red and rosy.

The case again proves the powers of the wonderful Quaker Extract. If you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh or stomach worms call at Coursey & Munn's Drug Store, 29 Marietta Street, for Quaker Extract, 6 for $5.00, 3 for $2.50 or $1.00 a bottle. Oil of Balm 25c, or 5 for $1.00. Do not fail to call today and obtain good health. We prepay express charges on all orders of $3.00 or over.

Marietta, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—A large crowd of people were attracted to the square today by the work of putting up the A. S. Clay monument. It stands in the corner of the city park next to the courthouse and will, when unveiled, be an imposing figure there. It is of bronze, the pedestal being marble. The unveiling will occur as soon as Miss Evelyn Clay, the senator's daughter, comes home from Washington, where she is attending school.

ABOUT CHICKENS

BY "YOUR UNCLE DUDLEY"

IMPORTANCE OF SMALL THINGS OF THE FARM

The cultivation of the cotton crop is in full blast. Every cotton planter has his hands full, and a little more so, in working what is, in many instances, his only crop; for to this crop which he considers his sole dependence he looks for bread, meat, clothing and luxuries. This idea he inherited from his father, to whom it came from the generation that preceded him.

It is perhaps true that in the past or just after the war between the states cotton was, largely, the southern farmer's only salvation. It is also true that cotton is largely responsible for the present prosperity of the south; but now that the south has come into her own and the farmers all over the south are in better circumstances than they ever have been since the war ended, why still cling to cotton exclusively? The last cotton crop severely injured the south financially, and if as large a crop of cotton has been planted this year, the farmers will almost face ruin.

Make Small Things Pay.

Few farmers in the south fully realize the great advantages that they possess over every other section of the United States. Few of them think how easily they could by proper management work a cotton crop out from start to finish, by making the small things of almost every farm in the south pay the cost of the cultivation.

It is a source of gratification to every one in the south, to see that in the last few years the corn crop has increased; that more farmers are raising improved breeds of hogs; that the wheat and other grain crops have increased. This indicates that the all-cotton mania has somewhat abated. But still the fact that an enormous crop of cotton was made and sold below the cost of production in some instances still indicates that there is room for improvement.

Last December the poultrymen of the south held in Atlanta the largest poultry show that was ever held in the south. Poultrymen from every part of the country east of the Rocky mountains were in attendance. I wish that the farmers of the south could have mingled freely with them. These men were generally farmers who combined poultry breeding with agriculture. They were simply amazed at the advantages that the southern farmer had over them. Their work has to be done in about six months of the year. During the half year that they work it is absolutely necessary for them to make everything that they cultivate bring in the dollar. Unlike the southern farmer, the small things of their farmers are not put aside and wasted, but are carefully gathered up and marketed.

Make Chickens Pay.

They informed me that on almost every farm in the north the farmers bred chickens. They have to house them in winter in houses that cost about ten times as much as a poultry house would cost in the south, and yet they make eggs and chickens pay them a good profit, even when they sell them below the price that farmers could obtain in the south.

Eggs are worth from 25 to 30 cents in Atlanta today. The farmer can produce them for 5 cents or less per dozen. Atlanta uses 160,000 eggs every day in the year. The produce merchants gave me thess figures. Sprng chickens are worth 30 to 40 cents a pound. This makes a frying size chicken worth 50 to 75 cents. These prices are much beyond the prices that the farmers in the north obtain, and yet it costs them twice as much as it does the southern farmer to produce them.

There are a large number of small farm products grown on every farm in the south, which could be turned into dollars, but are thrown aside instead of being taken to market.

The Equal of an Acre.

One hundred chickens weighing from one pound to one and a half pounds would bring in hard cash at least $30. What farmer in the south clears that much on each acre of cotton that he plants? The chickens almost feed themselves, while it costs nearly or quite that much to cultivate and market every acre of cotton that he plants.

All over the south today our chief supply of poultry and eggs come from Tennessee, North Carolina and Kentucky. The demand is today, as it has been for many years, greater than the supply. You cannot overstock the market. Every farmer in the south has it within his power to make this one—in his opinion—of the small things of his cotton farm pay every cent of the cost of cultivating and marketing his cotton crop, which could be sold in the fall without a string tied to it.

American Standard of Perfection.

In a letter just received from Mr. S. T. Campbell, secretary of the American Poultry Association, he informs me that the publishers of the Standard have informed him that it will be issued about June 1.

THE SHOW PLACE.

OPERATED IN CONNECTION WITH THE NEW KIMBALL, ATLANTA, GA.

WE have had a great many visitors at Kimballville, and numbers of them after seeing the roses, have been anxious to buy some of our rose bushes. We have told them frankly that this is not the right time of the year to transplant roses, and have suggested that they select the variety that they like and place their order for fall delivery.

THINK what an advantage you have over us. When we selected our flowers we had to do so from catalogue descriptions. On paper all flowers look good, and while we made some good selections, we made others that were very bad, indeed.

NOW, YOU can visit our gardens, see the roses in full bloom, and pick out what you like.

ISN'T that better than ordering from some out-of-town florist, and guessing at what you want? If you were ordering a dress, or suit, wouldn't you like to see the pattern and material?

COME out and make your choice. Place your order NOW for fall delivery.

HOWARD THROWS HAT INTO RING

Fifth District Representative Mails Formal Announcement of Candidacy.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 23.—(Special.)—Representative William Schley Howard mailed out a formal announcement today of his candidacy for re-election to congress.

In addressing the voters of the district, Mr. Howard points to the work of the house in the sixty-second congress, which he has helped to frame. On that record and the record he has made personally, he asks the indorsement of his constituents.

On Saturday Mr. Howard will appear before the house judiciary committee and make an additional argument against hasty action on the workmen's compensation bill, which has passed the senate and is now pending in the house committee.

Hardy O. Teat, who has been in Washington for several weeks as the representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, in speaking of Mr. Howard's work in this connection, said:

"I want you to tell the boys at home that Bill Howard has done everything possible to help us in this matter. He has worked night and day on this bill and I believe we are going to stave off action for the present. We do not want this bill to pass—not at this time, anyway. No stone has been left unturned by Howard to aid us."

MILLIONAIRE RANCHER SHOOTS MAN TO DEATH

Quanah, Texas, May 23.—Burk Burnett, owner of the famous "four-six" ranch, worth many millions of dollars, shot and killed Farley Sayers, a King county ranchman at Paducah, Texas, at noon today. Burnett is treasurer of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and lives in Fort Worth. His King county ranch is composed of 250,000 acres. The cause of the shooting is not known here.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Thornwell Jacobs announced yesterday that by the last of next week the site for Oglethorpe university will have been purchased. Mr. Jacobs said that the purchasing committee has decided upon one of three sites, and that one of these sites will be bought within a week's time. He stated that the committee did not care to disclose the exact location of these sites until some definite action had been taken. A sum of $250,000 has already been raised for a building fund for the university.

There were no large real estate announcements made yesterday, but there were apparently well founded reports abroad that several Peachtree street and north side deals of considerable size are pending and may be expected for announcement within the next week or so.

ADVERSE REPORT MADE ON WOOL REVISION BILL

Washington, May 23.—The senate committee on finance today authorized Senator Smoot, of Utah, to adversely report the house wool tariff revision bill, and to announce that later the republican members of the committee would take up the framing of a republican substitute.

In presenting the committee's adverse report, Mr. Smoot stated that the majority expected to report a substitute.

Senator Heyburn protested that as the majority had taken no action, no member had a right to make such a promise, which was calculated, he said, "to create the impression that the republican party is about to enter upon a revision of the tariff."

Senators Lodge and Penrose sustained Mr. Smoot in his statement. Mr. Penrose added that the republican members of the committee would present a bill based on the report of the tariff board.

"Congress legislates and it has no master to dictate its course," replied Mr. Heyburn tersely, indicating a purpose not to be guided by the tariff board.

Senator Bailey remarked that a majority of the republican members of the committee wanted to confess that the rates of the Payne-Aldrich bill were too high, and Senator Heyburn did not agree with them.

"That states my position accurately," replied Mr. Heyburn. "I do not want a revision."

"And the others do," continued Mr. Bailey.

BLUE-GRAY VETERANS TO MEET AT GETTYSBURG

Gettysburg, Pa., May 23.—The Pennsylvania battle of Gettysburg commission in charge of the celebration in July, 1913, of the fiftieth anniversary of the great battle, will meet in Washington May 28 and 29.

A practically full representation of the states and territories is assured.

A bill is pending in congress appropriating $358,000 for the government's share of the cost of participation in the celebration. The government is to assume charge of the quartering and subsistence of the visiting veterans of the armies of the north and the south. It is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 veterans will attend the celebration and that it will cost to shelter and feed them the amount congress is asked to appropriate.

Pennsylvania has appropriated $250,000 for the event and New York $275,000. Other states have appropriated large sums and many whose legislatures do not meet until next year are expected to fall in line and make provision for the transportation of veterans to the battlefield.

HIGHER RATES BEATEN BY CATHOLIC KNIGHTS

Memphis, Tenn., May 23.—After the proposal yesterday to raise rates beginning July 1, this year, has been defeated by the convention of Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, announcement was made today that the convention voted to put into effect the proposed rate, beginning July 1, 1913. The rates raised as those applying to the insurance features of the order and the additional insurance assessment will conform to insurance laws in effect in fifteen states, in three of which —Alabama, Colorado and Missouri—the order has members.

Officers' election late today will precede final adjournment.

SOUTHERN TRAINMEN WAITING ON DECISION

Washington, May 23.—(Special.)—Upon the outcome of the controversy now pending between the engineers on fifty railroads in the north and east and the carriers which involve wage increases estimated by the railroads at $25,000,000 a year, will largely depend whether trainmen on railroads in the south will seek further advances.

P. H. Morrissey, representing the engineers, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, were selected to name five arbitrators to settle the controversy. In the event they failed, the naming of these five men was to be placed in the hands of Judge Martin Knapp, of the commerce court, and Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor, the arbitrators under the Erdman act, and Chief Justice White, of the supreme court of the United States, as the third member. The fifteen-day limit has expired, but by unanimous consent Morrissey and Willard have been given an extension of time in the hope they can reach an agreement.

Justice White consented to serve only with the utmost reluctance. He did not know anything about the decision to leave the matter to him, serving in conjunction with the commissioners under the Erdman act, until this solution was agreed upon by the parties in dispute.

Then he yielded when it was represented to him that the only alternative was to convene all the parties at issue again. He hopes, even yet, that Mr. Willard and Mr. Morrissey will reach an agreement.

To those who sought him to ask him to serve Chief Justice White said he thought a member of the supreme court had enough head-cracking to do in deciding cases brought before him, since each of these cases must be decided against somebody.

Not a single big railroad strike has occurred in seven years, thanks to the good effects of Judge Knapp and Mr. Neill exercised under the Erdman act.

KLINKE OPENS FIRE ON THE SECRET SERVICE

Washington, May 23.—O. F. Klinke, formerly secret service operative at New York, has preferred charges to Chief Wilkie against the secret service. He alleges that a system of gift giving by employees to superiors, resulting in favoritism, has grown to an alarming extent; that the practice of "stool pigeon" methods is resorted to in counterfeiting cases and that an ex-convict is in the employ of the customs special agent service.

Chief Wilkie his informed Klinke that he will institute an investigation if specific allegations are submitted. Klinke, Chief Wilkie says, was suspended on charges last March and recently resigned from the service.

POULTRY AND EGGS ARE BADLY HANDLED

Kansas City, Mo., May 23.—Unskillful handling of poultry and eggs costs the people of the United States $45,000,000 annually, is the conclusion of the state board of health after six months' investigation.

The price of eggs is higher than ever, says the report, and competition is keen, but the producer gains nothing. Because of the large number of farmers who are careless in marketing their eggs, the careful farmer is forced to accept the same price as is paid his less fortunate industrious neighbor. In Kansas alone this loss is estimated at more than $1,000,000 a year.

TITANIC CAPTAIN TO BE CRITICISED

In Report of Senate Committee on Disaster—White Star Officials Also Involved.

Washington, May 23.—The report of the senate committee on commerce on the investigation of the Titanic disaster, embodying a severe condemnation of the conditions under which the giant vessel was allowed to steam into her fate among the icebergs off the New Foundland banks, and recommending remedial legislation, will be presented to the senate next Tuesday.

All day the committee discussed the conclusions submitted by the subcommittee, which took the testimony in the case, and unanimously adopted its report. The report will in all probability criticise the Titanic commander and crew for the way in which the vessel was handled just preceding the collision with the iceberg, and the lack of discipline displayed afterwards; the way in which White Star Line officials handled the news and the lack of lifeboats and other equipment.

The Carpathia's commander, Captain Roston, who went to the rescue of the Titanic, will be warmly praised, it is believed, and the report will be followed by introduction of a measure by Senator W. Aldrich Smith, chairman of the subcommittee, to carry out the conclusions of the committee. Among the reforms contemplated are an inhibition against the firing of rocket signals at sea except in case of distress, the equipment of all ocean craft of a certain amount of passenger-carrying capacity with ample lifeboats and other equipment, the furnishing of searchlights to ocean vessels, the compulsory use of binoculars by lookouts, the constant maintenance of wireless telegraph communication on all passenger vessels crossing the ocean and other steps that may be effective in the way of reforms either through legislation by congress or by international agreement regarding ocean travel.

It is possible that a resolution of thanks will be introduced in recognition of the splendid work of Captain Roston in rescuing so many Americans.

HE WOULD LIMIT TERMS OF THE FEDERAL JUDGES

Washington, May 23.—Senator Crawford, of South Dakota, in a speech in the senate today called attention to popular criticism of the bench and advocated a constitutional amendment to fix the terms of judges of inferior federal courts at ten years. He contended that the irritation and uneasiness of the people and their hostility to the courts are directed at these inferior federal courts. The states, he argued, would readily ratify such an amendment because of a prevailing opinion that some of these federal judges are indifferent to the rights of the people.

TWENTY-FIVE OFFICIALS OF THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY WILL GATHER AROUND FESTIVE BANQUET BOARD TONIGHT

Here are some of the men who manage the affairs of the Postal Telegraph Company in the South. They will be entertained at a banquet tonight.

Twenty-five southern managers of the Postal Telegraph Company will gather round the banquet board tonight at the Capital City Club, following the conclusion of an interesting series of business meetings, at which have been discussed various topics of interest to wiremen. A unique list of speeches, under the title of "roasts," have been arranged to follow the excellent dinner:

Chef—G. H. Usher.

"Electric Currents and Other Shocks"—Jesse Hargrave.

"The Visiting Managers, the Boosters' Club"—G. W. Ribble.

"Postal Telegraph Club, Just a Few Splinters"—W. C. Daviet.

"Postal Spirits, Intoxicating, but Non-Alcoholic"—W. C. Lloyd.

"The Absent Managers, on the Job and Not Forgotten"—C. H. Ashburn.

This morning the usual business session will be held in the offices of the general manager, Mr. Usher, Walton building. A. M. Beatty, local manager, is to read a special paper on "Receiving and Delivery Department, and Telephone Service," which will be followed by a general discussion.

At 1 o'clock the visitors and local officials will lunch together at the Transportation Club, and another business session will be held in the afternoon, with A. P. Martin, of Nashville, reading a paper on "Business Getting."

Saturday will be devoted to a social good time generally, an automobile tour of the city in the morning, luncheon at one of the clubs, and the ball game in the afternoon.

The first day's session of the convention, beginning Thursday morning, was a great success. As soon as the visiting managers arrived they proceeded to the general superintendent's office, where a "get together" meeting was held, with luncheon at the Transportation Club. The afternoon was devoted to a business session, at which T. D. Jackson, manager at Birmingham, read a paper on "Business Organization," which was very exhaustive and instructive. Last night the visitors went to the Forsyth theater in a body.

Among those who are here are:

ATLANTA NAMED BY METHODISTS

Northern Church Orders One of Its Bishops to Establish Residence Here.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today adopted the recommendation of the committee making Atlanta, Ga., Helena, Mont., and Kansas City, Kas., as new Episcopal residences. A new Episcopal residence has been planned fro Europe, but according to T. S. Nicholson, chairman of the Episcopacy, there was a feeling that two could not be established at the present time in addition to the one at Zurich, Switzerland, so it was thought best to postpone the naming of residences at Rome, Italy, and Copenhagen, Denmark, at least for four years.

An anniversary celebration of the Anti-Saloon League and Lord's Day Alliance took place tonight.

Francis J. McConnell, president of Depauw university, Greencastle, Ind., is the fifth bishop to be elected at the present session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was elected tonight on the twenty-first ballot by a vote of 552, or 52 more than necessary to elect.

FOUR WOMEN DELEGATES TO THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

Chicago, May 23.—Four women will occupy seats as delegates at the republican national convention June 18. Two will come from California and two from other western states.

"The first woman delegate to sit in a national republican convention was at Minneapolis in 1892, when Wyoming sent one of the fair sex as one of its delegates," said Chairman Harry S. New, of the sub-committee on arrangements.

Sergeant-at-Arms W. F. Stone has received scores of applications from women in western states for appointment as assistant sergeant-at-arms, doorkeepers and ushers at the convention, but none but men will be named for these positions this year.

At least 800 assistants will be employed by the sergeant-at-arms. The force will include 100 doorkeepers, 400 assistant sergeant-at-arms and 300 ushers. Already thousands of applications for positions have been received by Mr. Stone.

The first printed briefs relative to contested delegations were received today from the ninth congressional district of Tennesee and of the fifth district of Louisiana.

POLICE CLOSE ON AUTO SPEEDERS

Walter Candler Taken in the Dragnet and He Was Fined.

The police arrested Walter Candler, son of Asa G. Candler, the wealthy banker, in the dragnet thrown out to catch automobile speeders, and yesterday afternoon, when he appeared before Judge Broyles, he was adjudged guilty and a fine of $5 and costs was imposed on him.

The arrest was made by a squad of plain-clothes men detailed to watch speeders in Ponce de Leon avenue. According to Policeman McDaniel, Candler drove at the rate of at least twenty miles an hour.

The accused denied that he was going over fifteen miles, but one witness who was riding in the car with him said that seventeen miles was the average.

In passing sentence, Judge Broyles reminded Candler that the speed fixed by law is fifteen miles, and remarked that the testimony showed that the limit was exceeded.

Others who were tried and fined $5.75 were Herbert Siltzer, 46 Ponce de Leon avenue; E. J. Ackridge, address unknown; F. L. DeMarco, Majestic hotel; John Griffin, 16 Savannah; J. G. Burkhart, 358 Washington, and S. E. Bassett, 546 Peachtree.

Mrs. W. E. Parham, who lives in the Francis apartments, was discharged. Her husband appeared in court with her and proved an alibi that the car which the officers said they saw speeding in Ponce de Leon avenue was in another section of the city.

WILSON TALKS OF THE TARIFF

Governor Says It Is the Tie That Binds Politics and Business.

New York, May 23.—Governor Woodrow Wilson was the guest of the Economic Club at a dinner here tonight and discussed "Politics and Business" in furtherance of his candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination.

He said in part:

"There are special circumstances in the United States which put the question of the relation between politics and business before every other question. These circumstances arise out of the way we have handled the tariff question.

"The ideal of the tariff was a very pretty one. It was that the government would foster industry of every kind and meet the interest of everybody by custom duties which would protect the American producer. But the practice has been very different from the ideal. At first it was a sort of scramble for favors. There were no particular favorites. The committee of congress heard everybody and tried to please everybody. The result was haphazard. There was neither plan nor consistence in the tariff schedules.

"In our day we see an expert lobby, some figures dominating all the rest; particular interests that have grown very strong under the tariff playing a dominating part in the whole business of seeking favors and privileges by means of taxation. More than that, we see what was once a general struggle for advantage transformed into a very systematic business indeed. A very close partnership has in recent decades been established between those who got the greatest tariff favors and those who control the councils of the dominating party. The partnership is based upon very definite grounds. Those who get the tariff favors spend a part of their profits in maintaining the political organizations of the party through whom the favors are obtained. The tariff question, therefore, is radically altered in its aspects.

"No one who is capable of making an analysis of our business development in the last few decades can fail to discover that it is by this indirect control of the government that the largest and most powerfully protected interests have gained an extraordinary privilege and an extraordinary power; that this is the basis of every means by which they have built up monopoly and prevented legislation from striking in unmistakeable terms at the privileges they were so vigilantly safeguarding.

"The relations between government and business can never be normal in this country until business undertakings cease to control government, or rather until a small number of business undertakings cease to control government. When normal relations are restored our plain task can be performed. For it is very plain obody who really cares for the welfare of America can wish to upset business or interfere with any honest and natural process of it.

"But we owe it to business, even to the business which has been conducted in the wrong way, to be explicit, to name in as exact terms as possible the transactions we forbid and to foster by the utmost legal freedom everything that makes for the production of real wealth. This is not a program, but a standard, and it must be adhered to."

U. S. CONSUL HILL FALLS TO DEATH

Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, May 23.—United States Consul General Frank D. Hill, of Minnesota, was killed by falling over the railing of the staircase of a big hotel here today. He was found on the ground floor with a broken skull. It is assumed the fatal accident was caused by a spell of giddiness.

"Will you spell it, please?" requested Marx.

Papakyriakopoulos spelled the name and then at the suggestion of Marx had it officially entered as Themis H. Kyriakos.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

That bill of vaudeville at the very busy Forsyth has struck a popular cord. The feature act of the splendid bill is "In 1999," a problem play of the future. The big laugh-winning act is the contribution of Pat Rooney and Marion Bent. Adele Oswold and other star acts on the bill make it a perfect entertainment and thoroughly refreshing. Wila Hoit Wakefield, well known in Atlanta, a Georgia girl, will be the star of the bill for the coming week.

You can't find a nicer place in the South to spend the week-end than Warm Springs.

CARTRIDGES GIVEN TO ALLEN CLANSMEN

Wytheville, Va., May 23.—That Wesley Edwards, still a fugitive from justice, distributed cartridges to members of the Allen clan shortly before the shooting up of the Carroll county court, was the testimony today of John Dalton, a young farmer, in the case of Claude Allen, charged with the murder of Judge Massie. Dalton also said he saw Byrd Marion shoot several times on the courthouse green, and this has caused the prosecution to order the rearrest of Marion, who yesterday was released on bail.

Thirteen witnesses were examined today, among them being Detective Lucas, who arrested Claude Allen. J. W. Early, a member of the jury which convicted Floyd Allen at Hillsville in March, testified the first shots came from the corner of the room, where Claude Allen was standing.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON CLOSED LOWEST OF DAY

Market Opened at Decline. Rallies on Covering Failed to Hold Advance.

New York, May 23.—The cotton market continued comparatively quiet, but showed an easier tendency today and closed barely steady at a net decline of 11 to 14 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2@5 points, in sympathy with lower cables than due, and on reports of favorable weather in the south. The selling was not particular aggressive and the market seemed to meet considerable support on a scale down, but prices gradually eased off and closing figures were the lowest of the day. Slight rallies occurred from time to time as a result of covering and a little support from trade sources, but the bulges were limited to 3 or 4 points and the general tendency was downward. The relative weakness of July in New Orleans attracted considerable attention and was probably a factor here during the afternoon, as there was a feeling around the ring that it might reflect an easier turn in the interior markets.

The weather map showed practically no rain in the south except a little in the Carolinas, and the official forecasts were for generally clear weather tonight and tomorrow, with lower temperatures in the western belt. This was considered a very favorable outlook and weather reports, as a whole, were said to be such as to indicate a considerable improvement in the crop outlook before the government's crop was compiled.

Nothing further was heard as to the report of the National Ginners' Association and private crop advices received during the day continued more or less conflicting, although sellers claimed that they showed a further improvement on the average and New Orleans wires reported a more bearish sentiment there on favorable reports from some of the traveling experts.

The London stock strike may have added somewhat to the local tendency to sell, but trading was not active enough to indicate a broadening of interest on either side of the account.

Receipts 7,995 bales, against 13,292 last week and 3,027 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 1,384 bales, against 608 last year; at New Orleans 1,580, against 1,368 last year, and at Houston 547, against 341 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.50; do. gulf 11.75; sales 2,125 bales.

TRADE IN STOCKS SMALL IN VOLUME

Fluctuations Were Narrow and the Session Uninteresting.

dealings and narrow fluctuations, save in some of the less negotiable issues, were the most notable features of today's uninteresting stock market. The undertone ranged from irregularity to steadiness, but nobody seemed to attach much significance to the movement, which was largely, if not entirely, professional.

The rise in American Tobacco and allied securities on the "curb" was traceable to rumors of increased dividends, which found some credence in the fact that earnings of these companies are probably larger than before their dissolution. Today's activity in American Can was attributed to the speculative interests identified with that company, coupled with the prospects for large fruit crops, which must redound to the advantage of the can manufacturers. There was some late activity in the local traction shares, based on subway negotiations, but the closing, while steady, left the general average of prices practically unchanged.

American stocks were the only steady feature of the London market, other departments being characterized by nervousness, resulting, in part, from the calling of a strike by transport workers.

Another slump in wireless shares added to the depression of prices and caused liquidation of other securities.

The statement of the Bank of England for the week added another $1,000,000 to that institution's gold holdings, with its proportionate reserves, down about 1 per cent.

The most noteworthy feature of the report submitted by the Bank of France was an increase of approximately $38,000,000 in discounts and advances, while gold holdings increased by over $3,000,000.

Reports of riots in Budapest made for more disturbance on the Vienna course and may cause unsettlement later on the continent.

Further foreign demand, chiefly from Germany, for money here produced no change in rates, half year money loaning at 3½ to 3¾ per cent. Some 60-day loans to Berlin were reported today at 4¾ per cent, which was decidedly over the regular rate. The recent activity in commercial paper has flattened out, denoting some reaction in general business.

Bonds were irregular. Rock Island collateral 4s recovering from early heaviness. Total sales, par value, were $2,232,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call.

New Orleans Cotton.

Receipts, 1,580; stock, 66,480.

Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 5 to 6 points, on indifferent cables and an almost perfect weather map. A rain was reported over the belt and temperatures were fairly high. Telegrams from many sections stated that planting was proceeding briskly and that cotton was coming up fast everywhere. Traveling crop experts sent in favorable messages. This news stimulated selling to a great extent and while there was a good demand from shorts who wanted their profits, it was more than met and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 9 to 10 points under yesterday's close.

A feature of the morning that caused a great amount of gossip was the weakness of July. With the new crop months showing great steadiness at the decline and a resistance to pressure the July delivery sagged constantly. The most generally accepted explanation was that local spot interests were heavy sellers of that position. The decline brought out considerable liquidation of July long cotton, which added to the weakness. The forecast of fair weather for the entire belt also helped the short side. At noon July was 18 points down and the new crop months were 10 down.

The market was dull in the afternoon. At 2 o'clock prices were 12 to 18 points down.

The market was dull in the afternoon. At 2 o'clock futures closed steady at a net decline of 10 to 14 points.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, May 23.—Influenced by the continued good weather in the belt the market eased off today, although there was no attempt to hammer it. There is a growing feeling that the government condition report will show much better conditions in Mississippi, the Carolinas and some other states, than has been expected. It was a dull market all day, the public showing but little interest. New Orleans was a seller in this market and the south generally seems rather more inclined to sell than to buy. The market opened 3 to 5 points down and the high prices of the day were those of the opening. It closed barely steady eight at the bottom at a net decline for the day of 11 to 14 points on the active months.

Liverpool is due to come 3 to 4½ points down tomorrow.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 23.—Today's market has been a slowly declining one, under liquidation brought about by the good weather over the cotton belt. This is the record of the day, from time to time small covering orders of hedges from the continent checked the movement, but the close was at the low point, some 12 points under last evening. Transactions were upon a small scale, showing the indisposition of the trade to look for any permanent decline in prices. Should the market weaken under continued good weather, it will do so against the prevailing belief that any decline will be only of a temporary nature.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, May 23.—Cotton seed oil was easy under some scattered local selling induced by the weakness in lard and cotton and lack of outside support. Futures closed generally 7 to 11 points net lower; sales, 8,100 barrels.

WHEAT WAS WEAK AT MARKET CLOSE

Reports from Southwest Indicated No Damage from Drouth.

Chicago, May 23.—Wheat prices today failed to hold an advance. Late reports from the southwest indicated that no immediate damage would be done, although rain was needed and temperatures were up to 98. The market here closed weak, ⅜ to ½ to ½@⅝ under last night. Corn finished ⅛ to ¼ down; oats off to a similar extent and provisions at a decline of 22½ to 5c.

A strong tone characterized the wheat market early on account of unfavorable crop advices from the southwest, the smallness of receipts everywhere and also because of firm cables. Commission houses, as well as pit traders, both bulls and shorts, were active buyers and rushed quotations sharply higher. Before midday, however, the gain had all been lost under free realizing. Denials of any actual damage in Kansas carried the downward reaction still further and left the market decidedly weak when the session came to an end.

The gist of the afternoon developments in regard to the hot wave was that, despite rapid evaporation, the wheat fields on the whole were looking fine as yet. The Oklahoma harvest, it was said, would be later than usual and the critical period not until the filling out of the heads. Between the opening and the close July fluctuated from $1.10 to $1.11⅜, with last sales $1.10⅛@$1.10¾, making the decline ⅜@½c net.

Profit-taking by longs eased corn after a little show of strength, due to small receipts. Favorable weather throughout the belt tended to give the bears an advantage. Immense Argentine shipments, 5,100,000 bushels, against 1,700,000 last year, counted, too, against values. July ranged from 76¼ to 77¼, closing steady ½c net lower at 76½. Cash grades were firm; No. 2 yellow was quoted at 82@82½.

Covering on the part of shorts carried the oats market upward until other grain began to recede. Then longs unloaded and brought about depression. Crop news was mixed and did not affect prices. Outside limits touched for July proved to be 50 and 51¼, with the close at 50⅛, a loss of ¼ from last night.

Packers pressed sales too hard today for the comparatively light demand and as a result quotations, which had been lifted at the outset, fell back all around. Latest trading left pork 32½ to 45c less expensive with lard and ribs off 22½ to 27½@30.

Dr. W. L. Gilbert, president of the board of health, stated that there could be no high temperature plant without a force draft. He outlined the work the board had done for the past eighteen months in investigating garbage plants throughout the country, and said the board had recommended to council the very best thing that was possible.

FULL REGIMENT SAILS FOR CUBA

a loss of one man dead and one wounded. Feeling throughout Oriente shows grave fears of the ability of the government to control the situation. The number of armed bands, according to general report, is rapidly increasing.

Cane Fields Burned

Up to the present there has been practically no depredations committed on American properties in Oriente, but some cane fields belonging to Spaniards are reported to have been burned. Tranquillity appears to reign in all the provinces except Oriente.

The American minister, Arthur M. Beaupre, this afternoon visited Senor Sanguily, secretary of state, and officially informed him of the determination of the United States government to send the transport Prairie with 700 marines aboard and the gunboats Paducah and Nashville to Guantanamo. Mr. Beaupre gave the explanation that this action was taken in the friendliest spirit towards the Cuban government.

Secretary of the Interior Laredo Bru said tonight:

"We regard the action of the American government with the utmost satisfaction as a practical expression of friendship. We do not regard it for a moment as foreshadowing intervention, but as an offer of assistance, should the necessity arise, which I feel confident will not be the case."

Panic Conditions Prevail.

Throughout the province of Oriente a condition bordering on panic prevails, and the whites are taking refuge in the cities. A number of American refugees have arrived in Havana.

The Ultimata Hora prints a statement purporting to come from a secret agent of the government, infimating that the government has evidence that the insurrectionary movement has been instigated and is being financed by the editor of a Cuban newspaper and a former consular representative.

EDGEWOOD WINS A RICH PRIZE

small fountain, besides shrubs and flowers.

Pryor street and Grant park schools have made their yards real show places, and better even than the results accomplished is the tremendous interest the children have taken in the work as well as the prospect of the prize.

Official Report.

The official report of the committee which was submitted yesterday to the board of education, through the president of the art association, is as follows:

Mrs. S. M. Inman:
Pres. Atlanta Art Association,
City:

My Dear Mrs. Inman:

The committee appointed by you to award the prize of $100, offered by Mr. Walter H. Rich to the public school making the best display of plants and flowers grown by the pupils in the yards of their respective schools during the scholastic year 1911-12, beg to submit the following report:

On account of limited yard space in some instances, and physical conditions of grounds in others, caused by recent building and continued washouts, only six schools have entered the contest. These are Highland, Edgewood, Grant Park, Pryor, Ashby and Lee.

Too much praise cannot be given the magnificent work of the children in all the schools. Their untiring efforts from early morn till beyond dewy eve should be an inspiration to the entire city. Such certainly has been the effect upon your committee.

The ladies feel constrained to say that no work in recent years has been undertaken that can be as productive of true civic growth towards the beautiful as this movement. From the tiny tot with her little bucket filled with dirt to the youth with his spade and barrow, all show a wonderful awakening, broadening interest.

Our decision was reached after repeated efforts. To some schools visits were made twice, and data read and weighed repeatedly.

Finally, all agreed upon Edgewood as the successful contestant. So it is with pleasure we present to you that name.

We are sending you the data furnished us by the principal of that school, Miss Stamps, just as she handed it to us. This may give you an idea of the stupendous work done by children of that school.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to the other schools, to whom we did not have five other prizes to give.

So much for the prize for "the best display of plants and flowers grown by the children." We have awarded that conscientiously.

We feel sure that Mr. Rich's object, as expressed so beautifully by him, "to give the child a means of gaining knowledge of plant life, to inspire him with a love for the beautiful, to teach him the decorative value of flowers in city life, and to instill in him such pride as to make him feel that he is an active force in the city's welfare by being a producer of something useful and beautiful," has been accomplished.

We are very happy to be the instrument of the Atlanta Art Association and Mr. Walter Rich to present to Highland school a special prize offered by them for the most beautiful and artistic grounds, realizing that that side of civic improvement must be both appreciated and cultivated.

Please allow us to mention the beautiful community spirit shown in the Ashby school district. A most commendable example of true civic pride.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. W. A. GREGG,
MRS. EDGAR A. NEELY,
MISS SALLIE EUGENIA BROWN,
MRS. CLARENCE BLOSSER,
MRS. HARALSON BLECKLEY,
MRS. JOSEPH N. MOODY, Chairman.

Presentation of Prizes

The presentation of the prizes to Edgewood school will take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the school. The board of education and all interested are invited to be present. Immediately afterwards the committee will go to the Highland school, and the special award will be made.

Colored School Prize.

A generous prize will also be donated by Mr. Rich and the art association to the colored school showing the greatest neatness of building and grounds, and inspection of the schools for this purpose will be made immediately, the prize to be awarded next week.

BRANTLEY IS CALLED BIGGEST DEMOCRAT

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 23.—(Special.)—Representative Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, one of the republican leaders of the house, whose articles in The Saturday Evening Post have made him known to millions of readers, is out in an interview in The Boston Record, highly praising Representative Brantley, of Georgia.

Mr. McCall suggests to the democrats that Mr. Brantley would make a good national leader. This is the story as told by The Boston Record of May 14:

"If there is to be a democratic president I would like to see the biggest democrat in congress occupy the post," remarked Congressman McCall the other day, "and I am sure many in the house would agree with me. He would be a worthy successor of that distinguished company of presidents."

Those around McCall tried guessing who the biggest democrat in congress could be. Of the house of representatives men, Speaker Clark and Underwood were mentioned. But Mr. McCall said there was a bigger democrat in congress than either of these.

"I have in mind Brantley, of Georgia," said Mr. McCall. And everybody agreed that Brantley personally was deserving to be called the biggest democrat in congress. He has been for a long time a member of the ways and means comittee, and thus it is that McCall has come to recognize his ability. Both are members of that important committee. Brantley is not one of the showy members of congress, but he has nevertheless solid merit in him. He is a man of great capacity in all directions. His personality is most agreeable and his figure impressive.
